Diocese of Broken Bay

SIXTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

21 – 7 – 19

This week: Gen. 18:1-10; Col. 1:24-28; Lk. 10:38-42

Next week: Gen 18:20-32; Col 2:12-14; Lk 11:1-13

Today's scene in the First Reading – the meeting between Abraham and the three travellers under the oak at Mamre – has been seen in Christian tradition as a foretaste of the experience of the Trinity and was the inspiration behind the famous icon by Rublev (pictured here).

An icon invites us to sit before it, to gaze into it, and to be drawn into it.

There is a lifetime of insights into the mystery of God that can be gained by gazing at this icon but perhaps today we could consider just one:

the three figures (from left to right – Father, Son and Spirit) are so seated at the table that a gap is left in the foreground – a space at the table we are invited to fill. We are called to enter into the communion of the Trinity, to be like Mary in today's Gospel who sits at the Lord's feet listening and looking, willing to be drawn into mystery.

Church News from around the world

In Chartres, prayer is learned from a young age

Under a bright sun, a welcome cool breeze sweeps over the vast park of the diocesan house in Chartres, where tents have been erected to welcome 52 children enrolled in the prayer school.

Small fraternal groups called "frats" have already been formed in the morning and now half a dozen primary schoolchildren are kneeling in front of the altar of the Chapel of the Visitations for a moment of interior prayer called "the time of the desert."

The silence contrasts "with the very lively animation of the praises that follow breakfast every morning, in joy and song," observes camp director Angélique Dupont.

For this mother of four, responsible for catechesis at Châteaudun, this community experience helps to show them that there are "a multitude of ways of praying, individually and collectively."

The youngest ones, aged from 8-11, are accompanied in this learning by adult volunteers, seminarians, priests and nuns, following the example of the disciples who implored Jesus: "Master, teach us to pray" (Luke 11:1). The schoolchildren and regulars in the camp are already thinking for themselves.

Jean-Eudes Coulomb, chaplain of this school of prayer, founded on his initiative in 2015, explains that "we wanted the greatest to be alone before God."

At his side, Michael nods his head. Participating in his fifth camp, this talkative 14-year-old with a strong voice is amused that he somehow represents the school's timeline.

Michael is already thinking about next year's camp "because prayer has become important in my life."

This spiritual break is "a little holiday" for Michael, the youngest of four children, "whose daily life is not always easy," says Dupont.

The organizers are pleased to welcome children from all social backgrounds as well as migrants from the popular districts of Dreux, the large cereal fields of Beauce and the city fringes.

Spiritual nourishment

In this group, some young people are already open to the idea of linking their destiny to Christ. "It is not uncommon for young people to ask questions of priests or nuns," says the camp director.

Thomas, 13, a fourth-grader in a public school in Châteaudun, recently joined the Samuel group, which is open to schoolchildren, boys and girls alike, where they freely discuss their questions and, possibly, their vocation.

"I have been thinking about becoming a priest for a long time now. I also have other projects in mind because I don't know if I will ever receive Christ's call," Thomas admits.

This school of prayer contributes, for the time being, to nourishing him spiritually. "Today, I feel more in dialogue with the Lord. The 20 minutes of desert time a day, which is a kind of self-examination, are almost too short."

At their side on July 9, to share the time of praise, exchanges and celebrate the 11 o'clock Mass, Bishop Philippe Christory of Chartres rejoices in the vitality of the school of prayer.

The bishop, who was appointed last year, says it testifies to "the strong demand for spiritual life of children and adolescents" and demonstrates "that the Church also has beautiful realities, by its ability to serve others and to gather."

In the dynamics of the synodal approach, launched by his predecessor Michel Pansard, he did not forget that "youth is one of the three major projects of the diocese with questions of renewal and territories."

Very attentive to the involvement of young people in the Church, his only wish is to trust the younger generations, the future of the Church. "They have a vocation to take their place as missionaries, as animators of pastoral life," he says.

REFLECTING ON THIS SUNDAY'S SCRIPTURES...

There is need of only one thing. Mary has chosen the better part and it will not be taken from her (Lk 10:42)

LONGING, DESIRE, AND THE FACE OF GOD

At the centre of our experience lies an incurable disease, a disquiet, a restlessness, a loneliness, a longing, a yearning, a desire, an ache for something we can never quite name. For what are we longing? What would satisfy our restless energy?

In her famous diary, Anne Frank asks exactly this question:

Today the sun is shining, the sky is a deep blue, there is a lovely breeze and I am longing—so longing—for everything. To talk, for freedom, for friends, to be alone. And I do so long ... to cry! I feel as if I am going to burst, and I know it would get better with crying; but I can't. I'm restless, I go from room to room, breathe through the crack of a closed window, feel my heart beating, as if it was saying, "can't you satisfy my longing at last?" I believe that it is spring within me; I feel that spring is awakening. I feel it in my whole body and soul. It is an effort to behave normally, I feel utterly confused. I don't know what to read, what to write, what to do, I only know that I am longing. (Anne Frank)

That same question is asked everywhere. What would satisfy us? Why this relentless restlessness? In her Children of Violence series of novels, Nobel prize-winning novelist, Doris Lessing, has her heroine, Martha Quest, pose that question as life's central question: Towards what is all of our energy directed? Devoid of a religious perspective, Martha can only understand human desire as blind, erotic energy, a kind of voltage, ten thousand volts of energy inside us. For what? For whatever we choose—creativity, love, sex, hate, martyrdom, boredom.

What are we longing for ultimately? What would satisfy our restless hearts?

Classically, Christian spirituality has answered the question with a single image, all of our restlessness and disquiet is ultimately a longing to see the face of God. Most famously, Augustine put it this way: "You have made us for yourself, Lord, and our hearts are restless until they rest in you!" In writing that, Augustine drew upon personal experience, but also upon a motif that had long expressed itself within religious men and women.

The idea begins early in the Jewish scriptures: already at the time of Moses, people are asking the question: Who can see the face of God? We see this in Moses himself when he goes up the mountain to meet God. He asks to see God's face. God replies: No one can see the face of God and live! (Exodus 33:20)

However, when Moses asks this question his desire is still quite literal, his desire is to physically see God.

But as their faith matures, the people of the Israel begin to understand this motif differently. Longing to see the face of God eventually is understood not so much as the physical curiosity to see what God looks like, but rather as an image, a symbol, an end-point for all human desire. To see the face of God is to have all desire quenched, all restlessness stilled, all aching quieted. To see the face of God is to attain complete peace. This is what the Psalmist means by the words:

As a deer yearns for flowing streams,
so I yearn to see the face of God.
I thirst for the living God;
when shall I see the face of God?
(Psalm 42:1-2)

By the time of Jesus, the idea is everywhere present in Jewish spirituality that the only answer to human longing is to see the face of God. To see God's face is to come to peace. But we are still left with the question: Who can see the face of God? How is this to be achieved?

Jesus gives an answer: Who can see the face of God? He answers simply: Blessed are the pure of heart, they shall see the face of God (Matthew 5:8). That simple phrase then became a one-line mandate to encompass the entire spiritual quest. The Desert Fathers, the classical mystics, and subsequent Christian spirituality in general have focused on one thing in their praxis—attaining purity of heart so as to see the face of God. To work at attaining purity of heart is the ultimate spiritual task.

It is also life's ultimate task. We long for many things and like Doris Lessing's heroine, Martha, are both buoyed up and fatigued by our own insatiable energies. These energies push us in every direction, towards creativity, love, sex, hate, martyrdom, boredom. Sometimes we know what we want, a particular relationship, achievement, acceptance, status, job, or home, and we believe that we will find peace by attaining it, but experience has taught us that full peace of heart will not be found, even there. Where will it be found? In purity of heart, in removing those things inside of us that block our connection to the author of all the persons, places, beauty, love, colour, and energies for which we ache.

FR RICHARD ROHR OFM'S MEDITATION: CHRIST EVERYWHERE

The 20th century English mystic Caryl Houselander (1901–54) describes how an ordinary underground train journey in London transformed into a vision that changed her life. I share Houselander's description of this startling experience because it poignantly demonstrates what I call the Christ Mystery, the indwelling of the Divine Presence in everyone & everything since the beginning of time as we know it:

All sorts of people jostled together, sitting and strap-hanging—workers of every description going home at the end of the day. Quite suddenly I saw with my mind, but as vividly as a wonderful picture, Christ in them all. But I saw more than that; not only was Christ in every one of them, living in them, dying in them, rejoicing in them, sorrowing in them—but because He was in them, and because they were here, the whole world was here too . . . all those people who had lived in the past, and all those yet to come.

I came out into the street and walked for a long time in the crowds. It was the same here, on every side, in every passer-by, everywhere—Christ.

I had long been haunted by the Russian conception of the humiliated Christ, the lame Christ limping through Russia, begging His bread; the Christ who, all through the ages, might return to the earth and come even to sinners to win their compassion by His need. Now, in the flash of a second, I knew that this dream is a fact . . . Christ in [humankind]. . . .

I saw too the reverence that everyone must have for a sinner; instead of condoning his [or her] sin, which is in reality [their] utmost sorrow, one must comfort Christ who is suffering in [them]. And this reverence must be paid even to those sinners whose souls seem to be dead, because it is Christ, who is the life of the soul, who is dead in them; they are His tombs, and Christ in the tomb is potentially the risen Christ. . . .

Christ is everywhere; in Him every kind of life has a meaning and has an influence on every other kind of life. . . . Realization of our oneness in Christ is the only cure for human loneliness. For me, too, it is the only ultimate meaning of life, the only thing that gives meaning and purpose to every life.

*After a few days the "vision" faded. People looked the same again, there was no longer the same shock of insight for me each time I was face to face with another human being. Christ was hidden again; indeed, through the years to come I would have to seek for Him, and usually I would find Him in others—and still more in myself—only through a deliberate and blind act of faith. ## Parish Revitalisation:

A Practical Way That YOU Could Help

Last Saturday we had a meeting for all those involved in our parish ministry of music. As a result of that meeting we would like to seek out hidden musical talent in our community, particularly for service in our Killara community.

In the first place we would love to build the choir for the Sunday 9:15am Mass. Can you sing? Could you help us to grow our choir and further enrich our liturgy?

Secondly the choir would love to have the assistance of someone who could assist in directing/coordinating the choir, helping choir members to practise the repertoire etc. Do you have that hidden musical talent you could share with your faith community?

And what about students of music out there in our community? Is there a chance you could share your talent (and get some practical experience) even if only for a short time?

If you can help in any of these ways please contact Catherine at catherinewillis@gmail.com or the Parish Office.

KILLARA CARPARK DEVELOPMENT: AN INFORMATION SESSION

All is progressing well with the proposed development of the carpark at Killara.

We have arranged for a meeting between Group Homes Australia and our parish community which will provide GHA with an opportunity to outline in more detail to the parish the service these new dwellings will provide, along with contributions from residents and neighbours of existing homes about their experience of the homes.

Please note that this is an information meeting about the homes to be built and the services they will provide – it is of course not a further discussion regarding the project itself which has been well discussed and ultimately approved by our PPC and the diocesan authorities several years ago.

The DATE for this meeting is Tuesday 6th August at 7:30pm. The meeting will take place in Killara church.

恭讀創世紀 18:1-10

天正熱的時候, 亞巴郎坐在帳幕門口; 上主在瑪默勒橡樹林那裡, 給亞巴郎顯現出來。

亞巴郎舉目一望, 見有三人站在對面, 就由帳幕門口, 跑去迎接他們, 俯伏在地, 說: 「我主, 如果我蒙你垂愛, 請你不要由你僕人這裡走過; 容我叫人拿點水來, 洗洗你們的腳; 然後, 請在樹下休息休息。你們既然路過你僕人這裡, 等我拿點餅來; 請吃點點心, 然後再走。」那三人答說: 「就照你所說的, 做吧!」

亞巴郎趕快進入帳幕, 走到撒辣前, 說: 「你快拿三斗細麵, 和一和, 做些餅。」於是, 亞巴郎又跑到牛群中, 選了一頭又嫩又肥的牛犢, 交給僕人, 要他趕快煮好。

亞巴郎就拿了乳酪和牛奶, 及預備好了的牛犢, 擺在那三人面前; 他們吃的時候, 亞巴郎在樹下侍候。

那三人對亞巴郎說: 「你的妻子撒辣在那裡?」他答說: 「在帳幕裡。」其中一位說: 「明年此時, 我必回到你這裡, 那時, 你的妻子撒辣, 要有一個兒子。」——上主的話。

As always, for security purposes, caretakers will be resident in the presbytery throughout that period. Fr Colin

WEEKDAY MASSES DURING FR COLIN'S LEAVE

There will be minimal change to our weekday Masses over the next two months. The only regular change is that there will be no 8am Mass on Fridays at Killara. During that period Exposition will move to follow the 9:15am Mass at Lindfield on Fridays. All other weekday Masses follow the usual schedule.

The only major exception will be the first week of August when the Diocesan Clergy Conference takes place, and in common with all parishes in the diocese there will be no Mass on the Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the first week of August.

WE NOW HAVE TWO TAP MACHINES FOR CONTRIBUTIONS ~ ONE FOR THE FIRST & ONE FOR THE SECOND COLLECTION ~

As planned, we now have two separate 'Tap and Go' machines for contributions and presently they are located on the shelf in the side foyer of Lindfield church.

The machines are clearly labelled – one allows for contributions to the First Collection (which provides for Fr Colin and Fr Thomas and for the sick and retired priests of the diocese) and one for the Second Collection (which provides all the operating revenue for our parish).

Saving our planet and saving our bills

You will recall that some time ago I reported here in the bulletin that the parish had received a bequest and following consultation with the Parish Pastoral Council and the Parish Finance Committee it was decided that, rather than simply adding it to consolidated revenue, the money should be used on a worthwhile project which we could not otherwise afford – the addition of solar panels to the roof of Holy Family Church to provide power for both the church itself and the Shirley Wallace Parish Centre and Parish Office.

The good news is that after much research, the contract has been signed and we are now ready to proceed and the solar panels will be installed over the next month or two.

This will have the double benefit of reducing the parish's power costs and of enabling us to care for our common home by reducing our carbon footprint. Once all costs of the installation are accounted for we have decided that the money saved on power bills will be placed in a fund for pastoral projects in the parish.

Fr Colin
