

Catholic Parish of Lindfield-Killara

Diocese of Broken Bay

FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

9 – 2 – 20

This week: Is 58:7-10; 1 Cor 2:1-5; Mt 5: 13-16
Next week: Sir 15:15-20; Cor 2:6-10; Mt5:17-37

Jesus calls us to be light for the world.

But a gentle light, an inviting light:
a light that beckons,
rather than the searching, scrutinising, burning light of a lighthouse.

We lead by example, not by pushing;
we lead by inviting, not coercing,
we lead by being attractive, not by enforcing our expectations.

We are to be a light like the light of dawn described in the first reading,
a gentle light,
not the scorching heat and light of the noonday sun.

Fr Colin

BISHOP ANTHONY RANDAZZO TO JOIN US FOR OUR FEBRUARY YOUTH AND FAMILY MASS

As you know, this year our Youth and Family Mass followed by potluck dinner will be celebrated on the LAST Sunday of each month.

On Sunday 23rd February Bishop Anthony will be here to celebrate Mass with us. Please note the date in your diary so that we can gather together to welcome our new bishop.

A TEMPORARY CHANGE REGARDING OUR SHARING IN HOLY COMMUNION:

Bishop Anthony has directed that for the time being, until the situation with the coronavirus is resolved, Holy Communion will not be offered from the chalice. This will be reviewed at the end of February.

For the same reason we ask that those whose custom it is to receive the Host on the tongue to present themselves last for Communion because of the risk of infection being transferred from person to person via the fingers of the minister of Holy Communion.

Food for the Soul ...

Who Are We?

This Sunday Jesus begins to instruct the disciples about how to be his followers. In the Gospels of previous Sundays we have been following the story of his early career.

He went to be baptised. Then, when he heard that John the Baptist had been murdered, he moved from Galilee to Capernaum. He chose his apostles there. Last Sunday we reminisced about his "presentation" as an infant, which itself looked forward to his suffering.

In this week's Gospel he tells them to "be what you are." He gives images. If you are like salt, then don't lose your flavor. If you are like a lamp then don't put a basket over yourself where no one can see your light.

Consoling advice.

But would the disciples have followed Jesus if they had known what it really would mean to "be what you are"? The First Reading says it means to share your bread with the hungry, to shelter the oppressed and the homeless. Clothe the naked. Do not turn away from your own. This is how you let your light shine in the darkness. It is the meaning of "becoming yourself."

A big assignment.

And in our own day, "I just want to be me," sounds selfish.

"I can get whatever I want whenever I want it."

"Take care of number one."

"If it feels good, do it."

And so on.

In the older culture of the United States, one of the classic songs made popular by Frank Sinatra was "I Did It My Way":

I planned each charted course,
each careful step, along the byway,
and more, much more than this,
I did it my way.

And so on.

The main message is that "I" have succeeded in life because it is mine. Me! No one dared to interfere with me because I did everything "my way."

There is a backdrop of fear in these lyrics, something about not being free to be myself, about having to do everything according to someone else's will.

Aren't we are just cogs in a giant, international, industrial wheel? The world and its population are very, very large, no surprise that mass production, mass advertising and mass purchasing give us the feeling that we are worth very little in ourselves other than contributing to the market, doing and buying what it dictates. Maybe we should at last face down the great machine and defy it outright. In the USA our coming election(s) and the surprising impeachment seem to hover around the same polarities.

But the scriptures assume just the opposite. They suppose that every human being is created with an unrepeatable, deep, interior shape. Rather than having to fight others in order to do my own will, I need to allow the Spirit of God to find a home deep within the interior space that is me. This Spirit will not invade me because it is the essence of respect, of forgiveness, of loving.

It is God.

You and I are built to be at one with this Spirit. "Becoming myself" means becoming what I was built to be, a home for the Spirit of Jesus and of God.

God's love becomes us.

Fr John Foley, SJ (from the Centre for Liturgy, University of St Louis)

Format: Morning Tea, friendly get together, an exploration of the theme of hope through readings .

Want to take part? If you'd like to be added to the email list to receive updates about gatherings contact Catherine Willis (catherinewillis@gmail.com) or Elizabeth Reedy (elizabethreedy@msn.com)

Cardinal Basil Hume, the much-loved former Archbishop of Westminster (d. 1999) and former monk and abbot of Ampleforth Abbey once wrote:

"I remember something I was told when I was a very small boy . . . In the larder there was a stack of apples. A small boy wanted an apple. He must have been told by some grown up that he must not take things from the larder without permission . . . Why not take one? Nobody would know. It just seemed common sense. Nobody would see him. Was that true? Nobody? One person would. That was God. He sees everything you do, and then punishes you for the wrongdoing, so I was told.

It took me many, many years to recover from that story. Deep in my subconscious was the idea of God as somebody who was always watching us to just to see if we were doing anything wrong. He was an authority figure, like a teacher or a policeman or even a bishop.

Now, many years later, I have an idea that God would have said to the small boy, "Take two."

from Basil in Blunderland
by Cardinal Basil Hume

"Always think of God as your lover. Therefore God wants to be with you, just as a lover always wants to be with the beloved. God wants your attention, as every lover wants the attention of the beloved. God wants to listen to you, as every lover wants to hear the voice of the beloved. If you turn to me and ask, 'Are you in love with God?' I would pause, hesitate and say, 'I am not certain. But of one thing I am certain - that God is in love with me."

Cardinal Basil Hume: The Mystery of Love

"Do not despair or give up hope. However far you may have wandered, whatever wrong you may have done, despair must never be a word you know. God wants us, more than we have ever wanted God, or ever could."

Cardinal Basil Hume: The Mystery of the Cross

More Food for the Soul ...

.....Fr Richard Rohr ofm's meditation:

To dance while standing still....

The Franciscans found a way to be both very traditional and very revolutionary at the same time. By emphasising practice over theory, or orthopraxy over orthodoxy, the Franciscan tradition taught that love and action are more important than intellect or speculative truth. Love is the highest category for the Franciscan School, and we believe that authentic love is not possible without true inner freedom, nor will love be real or tested unless we somehow live close to the disadvantaged, who frankly teach us how little we know about love.

Love is the goal; contemplative practice and solidarity with suffering are the path. Orthodoxy teaches us the theoretical importance of love; orthopraxy helps us learn how to love, which is much more difficult. To be honest, even my Franciscan seminary training was far better at teaching me how to obey and conform than how to love. I'm still trying to learn how to love every day of my life.

As we endeavour to put love into action, we come to realise that, on our own, we are unable to obey Jesus' command to "Love one another as I have loved you" (John 13:34). To love as Jesus loves, we must be connected to the Source of love. Franciscanism found that connection in solitude, silence, and some form of contemplative prayer, all of which quiet the monkey mind and teach us emotional sobriety and psychological freedom from our addictions and attachments. Otherwise, most talk of "repentance" or "change of life" is largely an illusion and pretence.

Early on, Francis found himself so attracted to contemplation, and to living out in the caves and in nature, that he was not sure if he should dedicate his life to prayer or to action. So he asked Sister Clare and Brother Sylvester to spend some time in prayer about it and then tell him what they thought he should do. When they came back after a few weeks, Francis was prepared to do whatever they told him. They both, in perfect agreement, without having talked to one another, said Francis should not be solely a contemplative, nor should he only be active in ministry. Francis was to go back and forth between the two as Jesus did. Francis jumped up with great excitement and immediately went on the road with this new permission and freedom.

Before Francis, the "secular" priests worked with the people in the parishes and were considered "active." Those who belonged to religious orders went off to monasteries to be "contemplative" and pray. Francis found a way to do both and took his prayer on the road. (That's why Franciscans are called friars instead of monks.) In fact, prayer is what enabled him to sustain his life of love and service to others over the long haul, without becoming cynical or angry. Francis didn't want a stable form of monastic life; he wanted us to mix with the world and to find God amidst its pain, confusion, and disorder. [1] For me, that is still the greatest art form—to dance while standing still!

ENTRANCE HYMN FOR MASSES THIS WEEKEND

WE ARE CALLED

David Haas

Come! Live in the light!
Shine with the joy and the love of the Lord!
We are called to be light for the kingdom,
to live in the freedom of the city of God!

REFRAIN

*We are called to act with justice, we are called to love tenderly,
we are called to serve one another;
to walk humbly with God!*

Come! Open your heart!
Show your mercy to all those in fear!
We are called to be hope for the hopeless
so all hatred and blindness will be no more!

Sing! Sing a new song!
Sing of that great day when all will be one!
God will reign, and we'll walk with each other as sisters and brothers united in love!

THE PRAYERS AND RESPONSES OF MASS

GLORIA:

Glory to God in the highest,
and on earth peace to people of good will.
We praise you, we bless you,
we adore you, we glorify you,
we give you thanks for your great glory,
Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father.

Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son,
Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,
you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us;
you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer;
you are seated at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy on us.

For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord,
you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ,
with the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God the Father.
Amen

MEMORIAL ACCLAMATION:

Save us, Sav-iour of the world, for by your Cross and Res - ur - rec - tion you have set us free.

PSALM 111:4-9

The Lord is a light in the darkness for the upright:
God is generous, merciful and just.
The good take pity and lend,
they conduct their affairs with honour.

The just will never waver:
they will be remembered for ever.
They have no fear of evil news;
with a firm heart they trust in the Lord.

With steadfast hearts they will not fear;
open-handed, they give to the poor;
their justice stands firm for ever.
Their heads will be raised in glory.

At Masses at which the Psalm is sung the response is: A light rises in the darkness for the upright.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia! I am the light of the world, says the Lord; the one who follows me will have the light of life. Alleluia!

CELEBRATIONS THIS WEEK: Fifth week in Ordinary Time

Mon Memoria of St Scholastica
Fri Memoria of Sts Cyril and Methodius

THE APOSTLES' CREED

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ,
his only Son, our Lord,
(all bow at the following words in bold):
who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand
of God the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the Holy Catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting. Amen

Lord, in Jesus your Son, you restored to us the gift of everlasting life. Grant that life to:

Please pray for the repose of the soul of James (Jim) Bradley of our parish who died during the week. The Funeral Mass will be held on Friday 14th February at 12pm in our Killara Church. Please check 'Stop Press' (under 'News and Events') on our parish website.

Recently deceased: Fr Denis Callahan, Joyce Cummins, Daniella Takchi, Margaret Murdoch, Jeanette McInerney

Anniversary: Siannon Reilly, Gwen Bradley

PLEASE PRAY FOR THOSE WHO ARE SICK:

RESPONSES TO THE PSALM FOR WEEKDAY MASS THIS WEEK:

Mon Lord, go up to the place of your rest!
Tues How lovely is your dwelling place, Lord, mighty God!
Wed The mouths of the just murmur wisdom.
Thurs Lord, remember us, for the love you bear your people.
Fri I am the Lord, your God: hear my voice
Sat Lord, remember us, for the love you bear your people.

常年期第五主日9-2-2020

讀經一（你將光芒四射，有如黎明。）

恭讀依撒意亞先知書 58:6-10

上主這樣說：「我所中意的齋戒，豈不是要人解除不義的鎖鏈，廢除軛上的繩索，使受壓迫者獲得自由；折斷所有的軛嗎？豈不是要人將食糧分給飢餓的人；收容無地容身的窮人，到自己的屋裡；見到赤身露體的人，給他衣服；不要避開你的骨肉嗎？「如果這樣，你將光芒四射，有如黎明；你的傷口將會迅速復原；你的救援要走在你前面。上主的光榮要作你的後盾。」「那時，你如呼喊，上主必要俯允；你若哀求，他必回答：『我在這裡！』」「你如果從你當中消除欺壓，及指手畫腳的行為和虛偽的言談；你如果把你的食糧，施捨給飢餓的人，滿足貧窮者的心靈；那麼，你的光明要在黑暗中升起，你的黑夜將成為白晝。」——上主的話。

（默想片刻）

答唱詠 詠112:4-5, 6-7, 8-9

【答】：上主富於仁愛，慈悲而又公道，像光明在黑暗中向義人照耀。（詠112:4）

領：上主富於仁愛，慈悲而又公道，像光明在黑暗中向義人照耀。樂善好施的人，必蒙賜福；他以正義處理事務。【答】

領：義人必永受紀念。噩耗不會使他驚慌，因為他仰賴上主，必心志堅強，總不動搖。

【答】

領：他心志堅強，無懼無憂。他散財賙濟貧苦的人，他的仁義必萬世流芳。他昂首闊步，受人敬仰。【答】

讀經二（保祿只宣講那被釘在十字架上的耶穌基督。）

恭讀聖保祿宗徒致格林多人前書 2:1-5

福音前歡呼

領/眾：亞肋路亞。

領：主說：「我是世界的光；跟隨我的，決不在黑暗中行走，必有生命之光。」（若8:12）

眾：亞肋路亞。

福音（基督是世界的。）

恭讀聖瑪竇福音 5:13-16

那時候，耶穌對門徒說：

「你們是地上的鹽，鹽若失了味，可用什麼使它再鹹呢？它再毫無用途，只好拋在外邊，

任人踐踏罷了。

「你們是世界的光；建在山上的城，是不能隱藏的。人點燈，並不是放在斗底下，而是放在燈台上，照耀屋中所有的人。

「照樣，你們的光，也當在人前照耀，好使他們看見你們的善行，光榮你們在天之父。」——上主的話。

As St Benedict's description of false monks indicates, self-will is a matter of maintaining full control over one's own life & living it for one's own advantage, convenience, & gratification...Self-will torpedoes any hope of genuine community. Perhaps we would employ the terms selfishness or individualism, but these terms are too mild to describe the reality for which the Latin word singularitas was used. Self-will implies that we ourselves are the only ones taken into consideration in the making of choices; nobody else matters. As the thirteenth century Cistercian Baldwin of Forde wrote: "If someone lives only for himself and for his own advantage, and considers only himself in deciding how he should live, we can understand this (whole life) to be totally dark." It has to be said that among all the challenges we face, the principal demand of Gospel living is the renunciation of self-will."

ARE YOU MAKING YOUR WILL?

Could you consider your parish community? In recent years our parish has benefitted enormously from several bequests, large and small. The Shirley Wallace Bequest of course gave us our Parish Centre, which is now so much a part of parish life. Another bequest last year has enabled us to install solar power on Lindfield church, providing clean and cheap energy by day to the Parish Centre as well as the church.

A bequest may also be a way to commemorate a loved one.

Any bequest, large or small, can bring benefits to our parish. If you wish to do this please ensure that the bequest is made to 'The Catholic Parish of Lindfield-Killara'.

OUR PARISH SCHOOL gathered for Mass last Thursday to celebrate and to begin the new school year and to install the new school leaders.

A Prayer for Catechists

Loving God, Creator of all things, you call us to be in relationship with you and others.

Thank you for calling me to be a catechist,
for the opportunity to share with others
what you have given to me.

May all those with whom I share the gift of faith discover how you are present in all things.

May they come to know you, the one true God,
and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent.

May the grace of the Holy Spirit guide my heart and lips, so that I may remain constant in loving and praising you.

May I be a witness to the Gospel and a minister of your truth.
May all my words and actions reflect your love.

Amen.
