ENTRANCE PROCESSION

Proclaim a joyful sound and let it be heard;
proclaim to the ends of the earth:
The Lord has freed his people, alleluia.

COLLECT

Grant, almighty God, that we may celebrate with heartfelt devotion these days of joy,
which we keep in honour of the risen Lord,
and that what we relive in remembrance
we may always hold to in what we do.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God, for ever and ever. Amen.

SELF REFLECTION: PEACE

This Sunday's Gospel, John 14:23-29, reminds me that loving Jesus means living by His words. I'm not alone—
God is with me, and the Holy Spirit guides me. His peace calms my fears, even when life feels uncertain.

- Am I showing my love for Jesus by keeping His word?
- Do I welcome the presence of God in my daily life?
- How do I listen for the guidance of the Holy Spirit?
- Am I holding on to Jesus' peace in times of fear or trouble?
- Do I trust God's plan, even when I don't understand it?

Peace Love Trust

Faith Calm

Lord, help me to love You by keeping Your word. Let Your presence dwell in me, and may Your Spirit guide and teach me each day. Fill me with Your peace, and calm my heart when I am afraid. I trust in Your plan and find hope in Your promises. Amen.

First Reading: Acts 15:1-2, 22-29 (JB)

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

It has been decided by the Holy Spirit and ourselves not to burden you beyond what is essential.

Some men came down from Judaea and taught the brothers, 'Unless you have yourselves circumcised in the tradition of Moses you cannot be saved.' This led to disagreement, and after Paul and Barnabas had a long argument with these men it was arranged that Paul and Barnabas and others of the church should go up to Jerusalem and discuss the problem with the apostles and elders.

Then the apostles and elders decided to choose delegates to send to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; the whole church concurred with this. They chose Judas known as Barsabbas and Silas, both leading men in the brotherhood, and gave them this letter to take with them:

'The apostles and elders, your brothers, send greetings to the brothers of pagan birth in Antioch, Syria and Cilicia. We hear that some of our members have disturbed you with their demands and have unsettled your minds. They acted without any authority from us, and so we have decided unanimously to elect delegates and to send them to you with Barnabas and Paul, men we highly respect who have dedicated their lives to the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. Accordingly we are sending you Judas and Silas, who will confirm by word of mouth what we have written in this letter. It has been decided by the Holy Spirit and by ourselves not to saddle you with any burden beyond these essentials: you are to abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from fornication. Avoid these, and you will do what is right. Farewell.'

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm:

R. O God, let all the nations praise you!

Second Reading: Revelation 21:10-14, 22-23 (JB)

A reading from the book of the Apocalypse

He showed me the holy city coming down out of heaven.

In the spirit, the angel took me to the top of an enormous high mountain and showed me Jerusalem, the holy city, coming down from God out of heaven. It had all the radiant glory of God and glittered like some precious jewel or crystal-clear diamond. The walls of it were of a great height, and had twelve gates; at each of the twelve gates there was an angel, and over the gates were written the names of the twelve tribes of Israel; on the east there were three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates. The city walls stood on twelve foundation stones, each one of which bore the name of one of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

I saw that there was no temple in the city since the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb were themselves the temple, and the city did not need the sun or the moon for light, since it was lit by the radiant glory of God and the Lamb was a lighted torch for it.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

All who love me will keep my words,
and my Father will love them and we will come to them.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL John 14:23-29 (JB)

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

The Holy Spirit will teach you everything and remind you of all I have said to you.

Jesus said to his disciples:

'If anyone loves me he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we shall come to him and make our home with him.

Those who do not love me do not keep my words. And my word is not my own; it is the word of the one who sent me. I have said these things to you while still with you; but the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all I have said to you. Peace I bequeath to you, my own peace I give you, a peace the world cannot give, this is my gift to you. Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid. You heard me say: I am going away, and shall return. If you loved me you would have been glad to know that I am going to the Father, for the Father is greater than I. I have told you this now, before it happens, so that when it does happen you may believe.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

GOSPEL REFLECTION

Sunday, May 25

Acts 15:1-2, 22-29

Psalm 67:3, 5-6, 8

Revelation 21:10-14, 22-23

John 14:23-29

I have told you this . . . (John 14:25)

Grief, fear, and anxiety. What a range of emotions the disciples must have felt as they listened to Jesus' final words before his arrest and crucifixion! And yet in today's Gospel, Jesus is also making a number of promises that surely sustained them in the days and years ahead. Amazingly, these same promises are also meant for us.

Whoever loves me and keeps my word, . . . we will come to him and make our dwelling with him (John 14:21). Jesus will be put to death, rise, and then ascend to heaven, but he is still present to us. When we follow him, he promises not just to accompany us but to live in us! He is as close to us as we are to ourselves.

The Advocate, the Holy Spirit, . . . will teach you everything (John 14:26). Jesus taught his followers many things that the Gospels record, but he wants to continue speaking to our mind and hearts. That's why he sent us the Holy Spirit. He will lead us and guide us in every situation we face.

My peace I leave with you (John 14:27). After Jesus' ascension, the disciples will face persecution and even martyrdom. But despite these trials, Jesus' peace will remain with them. They will know a wholeness and tranquility that can only come from the Lord. This is his gift to us as well.

How have you seen these promises fulfilled in your walk with the Lord? Think of all the times you have felt his presence in your heart. Recall when the Holy Spirit helped you understand more about the Lord or guided you in a specific way. Remember how God's peace descended on you in a hectic or difficult time.

God always fulfills his promises. So wherever you find yourself today, believe what Jesus has "told you" (John 14:25, 29). Then look for how he is working in your life, just as he said he would!

"Jesus, help me to trust in your promises!"

NATIONAL VOLUNTEER WEEK - HEART & SOUL OF COMMUNITIES

Volunteers are the heart and soul of community life and play a crucial role in strengthening communities. They help bridge gaps in public services, support vulnerable populations, and build a stronger sense of unity and belonging.

This week we celebrate our volunteers through National Volunteer Week which has the theme, 'Connecting Communities'.

Whether assisting at food banks, mentoring youth, cleaning parks and beaches, or supporting local sports events, volunteers provide invaluable time and skills that often go unnoticed.

One of the most important contributions of volunteers is their ability to address community needs. In times of crisis, such as natural disasters or public health emergencies, volunteers often step in as first responders, offering immediate aid and emotional support.

By working with people from diverse backgrounds, volunteers help break down social barriers which strengthens the social fabric of communities, creating neighbourhoods where people look out for one another.

For individuals and families, volunteering also offers opportunities for personal growth, skill development, and civic engagement. People who volunteer often report feeling more fulfilled and connected to their communities, which in turn boosts mental well-being.

So, National Volunteer Week highlights the important role of volunteers in our community. We should all be proud of our volunteers.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

Saint Paul VI, Pope

Feast Day: May 29

c. 1897–1978

Patron Saint of Vatican Council II

Canonized by Pope Francis on October 14, 2018

Giovanni “Battista” Montini, the second of three boys, was born about fifty miles east of Milan, Italy. His father ran a Catholic newspaper and was a member of a lay organization that advocated for greater influence of the Catholic faith within society. Battista often missed long periods of school, due to a chronic heart flutter and intestinal difficulties, and was privately tutored at the family villa. Turning from journalism, Battista entered the seminary at age eighteen and was ordained a priest four years later. Shortly after, Father Montini studied canon law in Rome. Though his ill health continued, he obtained his doctorate in canon law, studied for the Vatican diplomatic corps, and briefly served at the Apostolic Nunciature in Warsaw. Back in Rome, he served as a diplomat in Pope Pius XI’s papal household and assisted at the Secretariat of State. When Pope Pius XII was elected in 1939, Monsignor Montini worked as the pope’s de facto personal secretary.

During World War II, Monsignor Montini organized the Vatican’s efforts to shelter and feed refugees, keep them hidden, and address their mental and spiritual needs. After the war, he was ordained the Archbishop of Milan and held several other offices. In Milan, Archbishop Montini built many churches, organized diocesan-wide catechesis, and sought innovative ways to share the Word of God. To confront the rise of Marxist ideology, he supported unions and immigrants. He reached out to other Christians, Jews, Muslims, and those without any faith.

Archbishop Montini became a cardinal and Archbishop of Milan after Pope John XXIII’s 1958 election. He continued as a papal advisor, visited countries worldwide, and served on a commission that prepared for Vatican II. On October 11, 1962, Pope John XXIII opened the Second Vatican Council to connect the Church’s ancient faith with the modern world, as well as to unite with people of all faiths and those with no faith. He believed that God wanted the Church to assist all peoples with the issues of modernization, communism, economic progress, war, and poverty.

After Pope John XXIII’s death, Cardinal Montini was elected pope on June 21, 1963. He presided over the Second Vatican Council’s remaining sessions and oversaw the implementation of its schema. He also implemented new liturgical rites for the sacraments and a new liturgical calendar. Pope Paul VI made apostolic journeys to seventeen different countries. In the Holy Land, he met with the Greek Orthodox Patriarch; the two mutually lifted the excommunications imposed upon the leaders of each Church in 1054. During his other journeys, he exhorted churches and nations to address world peace, social justice, poverty, illiteracy, ecumenism, and world unity.

Pope Paul VI’s most difficult decision was the promulgation of the encyclical Humanae Vitae that reiterated longstanding Church teaching on contraception. Though many bishops and theologians recommended the moral acceptance of contraception, the pope prayerfully followed his conscience, resulting in outrage, especially in the Western World. He foresaw what would result from the liberal use of contraception: infidelity, moral decline, diminished respect for women, governmental abuse of power, and an erroneous belief that humans have an unlimited dominion over their own bodies.

Pope Saint Paul VI, as a faithful servant of Christ and His Church, you prayerfully sought to share the Church’s ancient and glorious faith with the whole world. Please pray that I will be a faithful servant of Christ’s Church, doing all I can to bring God’s grace and mercy to all. Pope Saint Paul VI, pray for me. Jesus, I trust in You.

CATHOLICCARE BROKEN BAY

Celebrating National Volunteer Week at CatholicCare

This week (19–25 May), we join Australia in celebrating National Volunteer Week - the nation's largest annual celebration of volunteering. The 2025 theme, "Connecting Communities", underscores the vital role volunteers play in bringing people together and strengthening our communities.

At CatholicCare, we are deeply grateful for our dedicated volunteers who selflessly contribute their time and energy to support our mission. Their compassion and commitment make a profound impact on the lives of those we serve.

One inspiring example is Susan, who, after receiving an Alzheimer's diagnosis in her 50s, was motivated to volunteer at CatholicCare's Memory Innovations Centre to help other people who have started to notice changes in their memory. Susan credits the Brain Games classes with helping her maintain her cognitive health and she now gives back by supporting others facing similar challenges.

If you're inspired to make a difference, consider joining our team of volunteers. Your unique skills and kindness can help us build a more connected and compassionate community.

Call us today on 1800 324 924 to find out more.

RECONCILIATION: A JOURNEY TOGETHER

National Reconciliation Week is a time to reflect, to listen and to walk together. It reminds us that healing begins when we face the past with honesty and look to the future with respect and care.

This week, we remember the strength and wisdom of First Nations peoples. We honour their stories, cultures and deep connection to this land. Their voices matter.

Reconciliation is not just a word, it's action. It's choosing kindness, fairness and understanding. It's speaking up when something isn't right. It's about learning, being open to seeing things differently and standing side by side.

There is hope in every step we take together. Hope in the conversations we have, in the friendships we build and in the changes we make.

Let this week inspire us all, to listen more, to learn more and to love more deeply, because when we walk together, with open hearts and minds, we can build a future that's fair, united and strong.

Now more than ever, we must keep going – together.

Dear God, help us to listen, to care and to walk together. May we learn from each other and treat every person with respect. Guide us toward peace and a shared journey of hope. Amen.
