13 & 14 November 2021

Thirty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

The Lord said: I think thoughts of peace and not of affliction. You will call upon me, and I will answer you, and I will lead back your captives from every place.

SUNDAY HOLY MASS PRAYER

Let us pray:

Grant us, we pray, O Lord our God,
the constant gladness of being devoted to you,
for it is full and lasting happiness
to serve with constancy
the author of all that is good.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God, for ever and ever. Amen.

FR HILARION WRITES

Dear friends in Christ,

Next Sunday 19th November, on the Feast of Christ the King, we honour Rev. Fr. Alberic Jacobovone OSB, OAM, as he celebrates the 60th Anniversary of his Priestly ordination at 10.30am Holy Mass. All are welcome to honour this great son of Sts. Benedict and Sylvester, a great missionary monk, who laboured in NSW all his priestly life and still continues to do his bit for the Good Lord.

On the 28th of November we begin the season of Advent to prepare for the Feast of the Nativity of Our Lord Jesus. On the 5th of December at 10.30 am Holy Mass, we welcome our children who attend public schools and home schooling, with their parents and family for a bit of early Christmas celebrations.

On 11th of December (Saturday) at 10.30 am, we celebrate healing and anointing Holy Mass for the sick, house-bound and elderly with a bit of Christmas flavour. (If anyone needs transport, please inform the parish office).

On the 18th December (Saturday) we shall celebrate the Sacrament of Confirmation at 2pm. On that weekend (18th and 19th December) we will hold a mini-fete, as we missed all parish fund raising events during the lockdowns.

Your attendance and support will be highly appreciated. Thanks and God's blessings! Dom Hilarion OSB

First Reading

Daniel 12:1-3 (JB)

A reading from the prophet Daniel

When that time comes your own people will be spared.

'At that time Michael will stand up, the great prince who mounts guard over your people. There is going to be a time of great distress, unparalleled since nations first came into existence. When that time comes, your own people will be spared, all those whose names are found written in the Book. Of those who lie sleeping in the dust of the earth many will awake, some to everlasting life, some to shame and everlasting disgrace. The learned will shine as brightly as the vault of heaven, and those who have instructed many in virtue, as bright as stars for all eternity.'

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm:

R. Keep me safe, O God; you are my hope.

Second Reading

Hebrews 10:11-14, 18 (JB)

A reading from the letter of to the Hebrews

By a single offering he has achieved the eternal perfection of those who are sanctified.

All the priests stand at their duties every day, offering over and over again the same sacrifices which are quite incapable of taking sins away. Christ, on the other hand, has offered one single sacrifice for sins, and then taken his place for ever, at the right hand of God, where he is now waiting until his enemies are made into a footstool for him. By virtue of that one single offering, he has achieved the eternal perfection of all whom he is sanctifying. When all sins have been forgiven, there can be no more sin offerings.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

Be watchful and pray constantly,
that you may be worthy to stand before the Son of Man.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

Mark 13:24-32 (JB)

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

He shall gather his elect from the four winds.

Jesus said to his disciples: 'In those days, after the time of distress, the sun will be darkened, the moon will lose its brightness, the stars will come falling from heaven and the powers in the heavens will be shaken. And then they will see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory; then too he will send the angels to gather his chosen from the four winds, from the ends of the world to the ends of heaven.

'Take the fig tree as a parable: as soon as its twigs grow supple and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near. So with you, when you see these things happening: know that he is near, at the very gates. I tell you solemnly, before this generation has passed away all these things will have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.

'But as for that day or hour, nobody knows it, neither the angels of heaven, nor the Son; no one but the Father.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

GOSPEL REFLECTION

Mark 13:24-32

There is no escaping the apocalyptic writings in the Bible. We need to come to terms with the fact that some of what we read is dark and scary, bringing us face to face with the prospect of trials, tribulation and turmoil, both on earth and in the heavens.

We can nevertheless discern a consolation at the heart of such passages that overcomes the terror and darkness, which is the coming of Jesus, the Son of Man. Borrowing the image of God's deliverance from Daniel (Dan.7:13-14), Mark leaves us in no doubt that one day the world will end. No one knows when: not the Church, not the Son, but only the Father (v.32).

Drawing on all the wisdom of the ages which it teaches with authority, the Catechism of the Catholic Church states, 'Since the Ascension Christ's coming has been imminent even though "It is not for you to know times or seasons which the Father has fixed by his own authority". This coming...could be accomplished at any moment, even if both it and the final trial that will precede it are delayed' (para. 673).

St Bernard of Clairvaux explained Christ's three comings: first, the incarnation; second, his return to earth; and third, his coming into our lives and hearts. We rejoice in his first coming and long for his second. Perhaps if we prayed and longed for Christ's Second Coming more, we would help to usher it in. Imagine, we could play some part in his return! Jesus urges us to be on our guard and keep watch (v.33-36). But what are we to guard and keep watch over? Our minds, hearts and lives, but also time.

St Augustine said, 'Time is a threefold present: the present as we experience it the past as a present-memory, and the future as an expectation.' In guarding and keeping watch over our time we learn to put our lives at God's service, striving to live in his presence, with a growing awareness that the Lord will return, wrap up time and history, and usher in the eternal kingdom of God.

'Do not walk through time without leaving worthy evidence of your passage.' (Pope John XXIII)

WHY GO TO MASS? (continued from last week).

11. You get rid of many dangers and misfortunes you might fall into if it weren't for Holy Mass.
12. Also remember that you shorten your Purgatory with it.
13. With each Mass you will increase your degrees of glory in Heaven. In it you receive the blessing of the priest, which God ratifies in heaven.
14. To him who hears Mass every day, God will deliver him from a tragic death and the Guardian Angel will take into account the steps he takes to go to Mass, and God will reward him in his death.
15. During the Mass you kneel in the midst of a multitude of angels invisibly attending the Holy Sacrifice with extreme reverence.
16. When we hear mass in honor of a particular Saint, giving thanks to God for the favours given to that Saint, we can only gain his protection and special love, for the honor, joy and happiness that our good work follows him.
17. Every day we hear Mass, it would be nice if in addition to other intentions, we were to honor the Saint of the Day.
18. Mass is the greatest gift that can be offered to the Lord for souls, to remove them from purgatory, deliver them from their sorrows and lead them to joy of glory. - Saint Bernard of Sena.
19. Whoever hears Mass, makes prayer, gives alms or prays for the souls of Purgatory, works for his own advantage. - St. Augustine.
20. For every Mass held or heard with devotion, many souls leave Purgatory, and those left there are lessened sorrows they suffer. - Saint Gregory the Great, Pope.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

St Gertrude the Great, Virgin
C. 1256—1302

Feast Day: November 16

Patron Saint of nuns and of the Diocese of Magdeburg, Germany

Incandescent visions of Christ drew her into the deep

Today's saint, known as Saint Gertrude the Great, is one of the most provocative spiritual writers in the long and rich history of the Church. When just a child, she was placed in the care of Benedictine nuns, perhaps because of her parents' early deaths. The high walls surrounding the cloister broadened the young girl's mind, instead of confining it. For Gertrude, as for so many women of her era restricted by custom to narrow cultural lanes, a monastery-sponsored education amidst a self-governing community of women was superior to the forms of life otherwise available to them. Gertrude flourished in religious life and became well versed in the humanities, theology, and Latin, a language which she showed mastery of in her spiritual writings. At the age of twenty-five, Sister Gertrude had a jarring spiritual experience which would divide her life dramatically into two halves, "before" and "after." "Before," Gertrude was a faithful nun but overly interested in secular writers and knowledge for knowledge's sake. "After," she buried her head in Scripture, read widely in the Fathers of the Church, and melted under the high-amperage gaze beaming at her from the eyes of Christ.

Gertrude struggled to convey in words the richness of her spiritual experiences. A distillation of her visions covers five volumes known in English as the Revelations of Saint Gertrude. Metaphors, adjectives, and other superlatives flow from our saint's pen on page after page as she tries to capture the incandescent mystery of what she sees, hears, and feels. In a heavy, syrupy style common to her era, Saint Gertrude oozes about the intense love of Christ for mankind as symbolized by His Sacred Heart. More than three centuries before the visions of Saint Margaret Mary Alacoque in France, Saint Gertrude had visions of the Sacred Heart of Jesus! In one vision, Saint John the Evangelist placed Gertrude close to Christ's wounded side, where she could feel His pulsating heart. Gertrude asks John why he did not reveal the mystery of Christ's loving heart to mankind. Saint John responds that his duty was to reveal the very person of Christ, but it was for later ages, colder and more arid in their love of God, to discover His Sacred Heart.

Gertrude lived a "nuptial mysticism" in which she was Christ's bride and the Mass was the wedding banquet at which a chaste self-giving consummated the sacred bond of lover and beloved. Gertrude's vowed virginity was the proof and basis of her enduring commitment to Christ, a promise made in the company of His mother, Mary, and all the angels and saints. Gertrude composed her spiritual diaries at the express command of her spouse, Christ. Their hymns, prayers, and reflections also show a profound concern for the holy souls in purgatory. Gertrude continually begged Christ's mercy on them, and Christ responded that merely petitioning for the release of such souls was sufficient for Him to grant the favor.

In Gertrude's visions, Jesus speaks to her almost exclusively at Mass and during the Liturgy of the Hours. This is consoling. Most Catholics meet Christ more through the Sacraments than through books, so Christ appearing in priestly vestments, holding a chalice, or standing at an altar is absolutely congruent with our experience of Sunday Mass. Apart from her writings, few details of Gertrude's life are known. She left virtually no footprint besides her life of quiet fidelity as a contemplative nun. Like John the Baptist, she decreased so the Lord could increase. Gertrude's alluring private revelations became common spiritual reading among the saints of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and continue to fire the imagination of all who read them today.

Saint Gertrude, as we turn the pages of your mystical revelations, we meet the true Christ, so powerful yet so close to us in His Sacred Heart. May we respond as you did to Jesus' invitation and dedicate our lives totally to Him. AMEN.
