WHY DO WE DO THAT? Catholic Life Explained

Question:

Why do Catholics give money to the Church?

Answer:

Offering money and other goods to God and the Church is, before all else, a statement of gratitude. We see this when we look at how our spiritual ancestors showed their gratitude to God for the gifts they had received (e.g. Genesis 14:18-20 and Genesis 28:16-22). One of the ways they offered thanks to God was through a practice called “tithing,” in which 10 percent of a person’s goods (crops, livestock, money, etc.) were given back to God.

Today, the practice of tithing — giving 10 percent — is still common in many Protestant communities, but it is not required for Catholics. Instead, the Catechism of the Catholic Church teaches us that, “The faithful also have the duty of providing for the material needs of the Church, each according to [their] own abilities” (no. 2043). This means that, although we are not bound to practice “tithing” in the traditional sense, we do share a responsibility to share our money or other resources with our parish communities. Like our spiritual ancestors, we give as a sign of our gratitude for the many gifts that God has given to us. Beyond this, we also share our resources with other Catholic organizations to help them finance their ministries, to continue and grow their outreach to the poor and the needy, and to provide just wages for their employees.

How much we give depends on our individual circumstances, but since we share a responsibility for the programs, outreach, and health of our parish communities and Catholic organizations, this question gives us a wonderful opportunity to ask some important questions about the quality of our giving and what our priorities are. Remember, we are only stewards of our time, talents, and treasures and as the First Letter of Peter reminds us, “As each one of you has received a gift, use it to serve one another as good stewards of God’s varied graces” (4:10).

BRINGING HOME THE GOSPEL

Peter, the apostle who sank while trying to walk on water because of his lack of faith, receives Jesus’ highest affirmation. “You are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of Hades will not prevail against it” (v. 18). Peter goes on to deny Jesus, repent, and eventually become the leader Jesus knew he could be.

Peter is so wonderfully human in all the stories we hear about him. He is impulsive, he blunders, and he makes mistakes. Sometimes he seems almost childlike when he is around Jesus. Perhaps it is that childlike quality in Peter that allows him to see who Jesus really is, the Christ, son of the living God.

Children can be so incredibly honest. They can see right through facades and superficial appearances to the core of a person or situation. They blurt out what they think, sometimes to our own embarrassment. They are as quick to forgive as they are to condemn.

Then, one day when they are eight or nine or ten, they begin to learn how to hide their thoughts and feelings. They begin to practice saying what they know or think we want them to say. They are maturing and this is good, but how can we help them keep the best of their childhood qualities and still be able to go out in polite society?

I think the process must have something to do with being consistent in our patience and love. It involves giving enthusiastic affirmations and gentle, private corrections. That is certainly how Jesus treated Peter, and look how well he turned out—first pope, leader of the church, and the holder of the keys.

FAMILY RESPONSE:

Ask each person to name three things about themselves that they really like. Make sure you remind children to listen well. Do not allow any teasing or laughing.

PERSONAL RESPONSE:

What childlike qualities do you need to claim or reclaim to make your life easier or more comfortable?

WEEKLY SOCIAL JUSTICE CHALLENGES

Saint Rose of Lima (August 23) and Saint Monica (August 27) are both known for the power of their prayer. Saint Rose is believed to have prevented a devastating earthquake from destroying Lima by praying for the safety of the city. Saint Monica's persistent prayer helped in the conversion of her son, Augustine, who turned from his hedonistic life and became a Father and Doctor of our Church. Your challenge this week is to tap into the power of prayer. Prayerfully choose an injustice which you see—in your local community, in our country, or in the world. Then pray every day this week for an end to the injustice. Open your heart and listen to what God wants you to do to help end the injustice.

PASTORAL CARE FOR THE HOMEBOUND

Our clergy and pastoral care ministers bring the sacraments of Eucharist, reconciliation, and anointing of the sick to parishioners who are unable to participate because of illness or aging. For more information and to arrange receiving the sacraments, contact Parish Office.

CARE FOR CREATION TIPS

With the spring season (spring cleaning) upon us, shop at a second-hand store or organize a clothing swap for what your family need this year, rather than buy all new clothes, household items, and other supplies. Over-consumerism and the desire for new things contribute to an unsustainable economy that continues to deplete the earth of natural resources. Remember the old saying, "Use it up, wear it out, make it do, or do without."

Care for the environment is always a social concern as well. Let us hear both the cry of the earth and the cry of the poor.

STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE LEADERSHIP OF THE AUGUSTINIANS IN AUSTRALIA REFERENDUM ON THE VOICE

The forthcoming referendum on constitutional recognition of the First Peoples of Australia through a Voice to Parliament is a moment of great significance for the Australian nation.

The referendum is a democratic process in which citizens have the right to vote freely without coercion.

There is awareness of a diversity of views in relation to the referendum question within the community which is Australia including within indigenous communities and faith communities.

The leadership of the Augustinians in Australia strongly encourages members of the Australian community to conscientiously consider the significance of the good that a positive support of the referendum would bring.

Constitutional recognition of the First Peoples of Australia seeks to be an act of substance and symbol in terms of respect for the unique place of the First Peoples in our nation and the practical implications of such respect for First Peoples. The respect for the unique place of the First Peoples in this nation is consistent with the respect for and dignity of all peoples of this nation.

Constitutional recognition of a Voice would provide enduring assurance that the First Peoples of our nation have a secure and appropriate path to communicate with Parliament and Executive Government on important matters pertaining directly to their well-being.

With full respect for the integrity of conscience in this democratic process, we, the leadership of the Augustinians in Australia, humbly commend to those associated with Augustinian communities, ministries and associations in Australia as well as the Australian community more broadly, an earnest consideration of the potential for good a positive support for the referendum questions could have for our nation.

Sharing the Gospel

In this Gospel, Jesus asked his disciples not to tell anyone that he was the Christ, the Messiah, the Saviour. It is hard to keep a secret. When you are told a secret, the first thing you want to do is tell everyone you meet. If you were blind and Jesus made you see, it would be difficult to keep it a secret. You would probably run here and there telling everyone.

Prayer

Jesus, now I can tell everyone that you are Christ, our Saviour.

Mission

I will share my favourite Bible verse about Jesus with a friend.
