WHY DO WE DO THAT?

Catholic Life Explained

Question:

Why is the Church against stem cell research, especially if it offers the possibility of cures for diseases like Alzheimer's and Parkinson's?

Answer:

Like so many issues, the truth about stem cell research is more complicated than a few sound bites and vague promises of cures. For the Church, the problem is with embryonic stem cell research, not the research itself. The destruction of human life, even for a seemingly noble cause, is never acceptable. The ends cannot justify the means. Stem cells can be obtained in other ways, including from the placenta as well as from adults. So research is possible without the destruction of other life.

On the other hand, stem cell research shows much promise, but no concrete results. Some scientists also dispute what diseases might be cured by new discoveries. The research is still in its early stages. The question for our country is whether we should invest a lot of money in research now, looking for cures that will probably remain out of reach for most people, or should we invest that money in other programs with more immediate benefits, especially those that stress prevention and education. It is indeed a complex issue that requires close scrutiny and investigation before we jump to inaccurate conclusions or make decisions based on good, but misinformed, intentions. ©LPI

BRINGING HOME THE GOSPEL

In the first part of this reading Jesus seems to offer parents a freeway to the kingdom. It would seem the kingdom is ours if we live by the Ten Commandments and teach our children to do the same. However, as the reading goes on, Jesus tells us that his followers are challenged to do even more.

To be Jesus' followers, we are to live beyond the letter of the law. For example, it is not enough to say we won't hurt anyone physically (the fifth commandment). Jesus tells us we are not to hurt anyone emotionally either. We must curb our anger. We shouldn't insult others, and we certainly don't call them names. Finally, if we have hurt someone, we offer a sincere apology and try to make amends.

This is definitely a lesson we teach our children by example. All parents lose their tempers occasionally. Regrettably, when I was raising my children, it was more than occasionally. Fortunately, I learned the importance of saying I was sorry once things had calmed down; and to say it with more than words. I would try to take their hand or sit close to them making sure to look them in the eyes. I would tell them I was wrong, not in the dispute perhaps, but in the way I'd handled it.

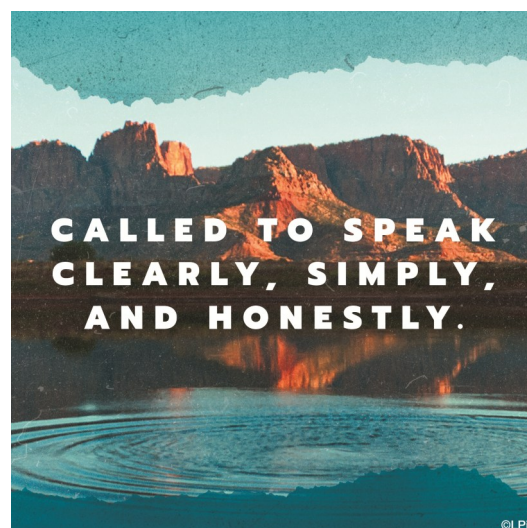

As time went on, I learned that by making myself admit I was wrong (something not easy for me to do) I became more aware of what triggered my temper. I learned to walk out of the room before exploding. And because I was modeling the behaviour, it was easier for me to make sure my children did the same. Teaching children to admit they are wrong and say they are sorry to a sibling certainly brings us, and them, a little closer to the kingdom.

FAMILY RESPONSE:

Ask each person to talk about the things that make them angry. Talk about how they feel when someone tells them they are sorry. Ask younger children to show you their happy faces and then their angry faces.

PERSONAL RESPONSE:

If losing your temper is a problem, try to figure out the root cause of your anger. There are usually other issues behind a quick temper. If you do not have "anger issues," write a prayer for those who do.

WEEKLY SOCIAL JUSTICE CHALLENGES

The Gospel for Sunday is part of the Sermon on the Mount. Jesus is focusing on keeping the commandments. He emphasizes that the Fifth Commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," means more than not taking someone's life. It also means not being angry or destroying someone's self-esteem by calling them names. Your challenge this week is to look at your life and examine where you might have hurt someone—physically, emotionally through negative gossip, cyber criticism, or derogatory words, or even spiritually by giving bad example. Make a commitment to changing that hurtful behavior, say a prayer for the person you have hurt, and try to have the courage to ask forgiveness in person.

PASTORAL CARE FOR THE HOMEBOUND

Our clergy and pastoral care ministers bring the sacraments of Eucharist, reconciliation, and anointing of the sick to parishioners who are unable to participate because of illness or aging. For more information and to arrange receiving the sacraments, contact Parish Office.

CARE FOR CREATION TIPS

"Before each person are life and death, and whichever one chooses will be given."
—Sirach 15:17

We are now beginning to reap what we have sown regarding environmental degradation. In our insatiable appetite for paper, plastic, gasoline, red meat, fish, food flown in from around the world, precious minerals, and irrigated green lawns, our society has been choosing diminishment and death for the natural world. God isn't cursing us with droughts, floods, melting glaciers, and global warming; they are the outcome of choices we have collectively made for decades now. Individual choices for conservation won't be enough now to reverse the consequences we have set into motion as a collective. This week, find a way to add your voice and efforts to a communal movement that chooses life over death in our environment.

AUGUSTINIAN FORMATION ASSOCIATION (AFA)

Hello Everyone and Happy New Year!

AFA will be holding their Annual General Meeting (AGM) on MONDAY, 23RD FEBRUARY 2026 at 7PM in the Parish Centre 1 at 2 King Street, Manly Vale. At the meeting all positions will be declared vacant, and a new Committee will be appointed on the night. If you would like to become a member of AFA or would simply like more information, please come along to the meeting or feel free to contact me prior to the meeting. EVERYONE IS WELCOME and it would be great to see some new people to share their ideas and suggestions to help fundraise and support our Augustinian Seminarians all around the world. There is no pressure to join the committee so just pop by and say hello and see what we are planning for the year ahead in terms of social and fundraising events. We will provide some cheese, nibbles and wine on the night so we hope you can join us.

Sharing the Gospel

Your mother looks at your messy room. She says, "You promised me that you would clean it up." You make up excuses: "My favourite television show came on." "My friend wanted me to play." "Grandma called on the phone."

Your mother feels hurt when you break a promise. It hurts God, too. Keeping your promise takes courage. Say "No" to things that try to make you break it. God will smile on you.

Prayer

Lord, help me keep my promises to do good things.

Mission

I will keep every promise that I make. I will not make flimsy excuses.
