Dear friends

Our deep sympathy to the family of Tina Robinson who passed away last week. Tina was with us every week and was a long time member of our parish family, and a very active member of our Filipino community. We extend our heartfelt condolences to her children. Tina will be farewelled from our church on Friday 13 October. We also extend our sympathy to Gillian Hawkins whose sister, Jean, passed away during the week, after a long illness. May eternal rest be granted Tina and Jean, and perpetual light shine upon them always.

This weekend we are delighted to have with us our friends from the Society of St Vincent de Paul, celebrating their annual Regional Festival Mass at our Saturday evening Vigil. A number of new members will be inducted as the members renew their pledge of service. We give God thanks for their witness and dedication to those in need.

They do this without publicity and with such generosity. They are a great blessing to us, and encourage us, too, to “not a pass a need unattended”, as St Mary MacKillop was fond of saying.

We welcome back our students to Term 4 this week, hoping that they and their families had an enjoyable break. In particular we welcome those who are now beginning their Year 12.

As we might know, last Tuesday 4 October, was an important day for our Church. It was the feast day of St Francis, and two important events occurred. Pope Francis published his Apostolic Exhortation, Laudato Deum, and he opened the XVI Ordinary General Assembly of the Synod of Bishops: “Towards a Synodal Church: Communion, Participation, Mission.” The pope’s letter can be found at <https://tinyurl.com/5hk7byys>. It is a direct plea to us to take seriously the current crisis of climate. For several days prior to the opening of the Synod of Bishops, the participants (including our Bishop Anthony and Kelly Paget, our Chancellor) took part in a retreat outside of Rome. The retreat was led by the English Dominican, Fr Timothy Radcliffe OP. The reflections, both as video and text, can be found at <https://tinyurl.com/mj85dr5d>. They are wonderful reflections on aspects of what it means to be a Synodal Church: Hope, Home, Friendship, Conversation, Authority, Truth. I encourage us to watch or read these superb reflections.

Next Thursday evening at 4.30pm at Our Lady of the Rosary Cathedral in Waitara, our Diocese conducts its annual Liturgy of Lament for those who have been hurt by the crime of sexual abuse in our community. In Bishop Anthony’s absence I will lead this liturgy. All are welcome to join us.

Welcome home this week to many of our pilgrims from the Holy Land! This last week they have been to Jerusalem and Jordan. It has been the most remarkable experience for them, and we very much look forward now to having them home with us.

Again, I commend next Saturday’s Referendum to your careful and prayerful consideration. It is a very significant moment in the life of our nation. I pray that it will progress the cause of Reconciliation in our country.

Unfortunately, we’re out of practice in how to conduct ourselves in a referendum. This process is supposed to promote dialogue about the fundamental rules and identity of our nation. Yet passions can run hot, and misinformation is rife.

How can we make sure our discussions with friends and family are respectful?

How can we find reliable sources to ensure we make an informed choice?

GOSPEL REFLECTION

Deacon
Richard Houwing
Parish Deacon

The image of a vineyard is common in the first reading (Is 5:1-7) and the Gospel (Mt 21:33-43). Each reading offers a thoughtful reflection on God's unwavering expectations of righteousness and the tragic human propensity to reject His invitation for love and concern for everyone, especially those less powerful. The moral teachings in these readings beckon us to think deeply about the world around us, recognize our roles as stewards of God's blessings, and adhere to the just path shown by the life and teachings of Jesus Christ. However, each reading has a slightly different perspective to illustrate the need to be good stewards.

In Isaiah's "Song of the Vineyard," God is the vineyard owner, and the vineyard represents the house of Israel and the men of Judah. The song recounts how God lovingly and expectantly cultivated His vineyard, only to be disappointed when it produced "wild grapes," a symbol of moral decay and unrighteousness. In this parable, Isaiah condemns the Israelites for their injustices and warns of impending judgment. The passage culminates in a sorrowful declaration of God's expectations and Israel's failure: "He looked for justice, but saw bloodshed; for righteousness, but heard cries of distress."

The Gospel of Matthew presents Jesus recounting the Parable of the Tenants. Here, the vineyard again symbolizes God's kingdom but with a more direct reference to the leadership of Israel. The landowner is God, the servants are the prophets, and the son is Jesus. The tenants entrusted with the vineyard fail to produce righteous fruit and violently reject and kill the servants and the landowner's son. Jesus, addressing the religious leaders, makes the point that they have consistently ignored, mistreated, and killed the prophets sent by God and will do the same to Him. The parable concludes with a powerful prediction and moral injunction: "The stone the builders rejected has become the cornerstone."

Matthew's passage makes a significant point about Christ's role in salvation history. Jesus is the cornerstone. A building relies on its cornerstone for stability and direction. In the same way, we depend on Jesus for spiritual strength and direction. His teachings, sacrifice, and resurrection provide us with guidance and purpose.

At a cursory glance, both passages utilize the metaphor of a vineyard. However, delving deeper reveals that the vineyard's representation shifts from being God's people in Isaiah to the kingdom of God in Matthew, wherein God's people are now the tenants. Yet, the core message remains consistent: God's expectations of righteousness and the regrettable failure of His chosen people to uphold these expectations.

In both passages, the divine disappointment stems from turning away from God. While Isaiah highlights moral decay, injustice, and a departure from God's laws, Matthew emphasizes the rejection of God's messengers, culminating in the rejection of His son, Jesus.

What teachings can we gain from these readings? Both passages impress upon us that we are stewards of what God has given us. Whether it's the blessings of our circumstances, the teachings we've received, or the message of the Gospel, we are entrusted with a responsibility to bear fruit that aligns with God's will.

God seeks righteousness. As Christian stewards, ensuring justice and righteousness entails: loving our neighbours, defending the vulnerable, and pursuing fairness. We're called to act with integrity, advocate for the marginalized, and uphold ethical principles in all we do. By emulating Jesus' compassion and righteousness, we promote justice in our communities and the world.

In Isaiah, the consequences of rejecting God are desolation and judgment, while in Matthew, it's the taking away of the kingdom and giving it to another who will produce its fruit. Both serve as a solemn reminder of the repercussions of turning away from God.

Despite humanity's consistent failures, God's love remains persistent. This is evident in His continuous efforts to reach out through sending prophets or His son.

In conclusion, Isaiah 5:1-7 and Matthew 21:33-43 show how the New Testament often echoes and builds upon the Old Testament. Both passages use the metaphor of a vineyard to convey divine expectations and the human failure to meet them. These passages comprehensively show God's persistent love and humanity's repeated failings. By examining these passages together, we can reflect on the relationship between God and His people and the moral obligations this relationship imposes for justice and love for all of God's creation.

Parish Vision Workshop

Having earlier this year discerned our parish Mission Statement (our primary purpose - why we exist), the next step as we journey together towards being Church in the City is to discern where God may be calling us to go - our parish Vision Statement.

You are invited to a special Parish Vision Workshop, where guided by the Holy Spirit, we will together discern and distill potential Parish Vision Statements.

The workshop, with dinner, will be held on the evening of Monday 23 October from 6.30 pm in Harrington Hall. To confirm your attendance at the workshop email olivia.lee@bbcatholic.org.au or phone our Parish Office on 02 9410 9000.

Everyone is warmly invited, we look forward to seeing you on the 23rd as we together shape the future of our parish!

I AM JESUS

Through movie clips and discussion, be taken back 2,000 years to the dusty roads of Galilee, to meet Jesus and discover who He really was on earth.

As we watch the short movie clips, we'll imagine ourselves standing there, on the edges of the crowd, listening, watching - what do we see? what impresses us? what confuses us? how would we have responded to this son of a carpenter from Nazareth?

Starting with what Jesus may have looked like, we'll then look at His birth, messages and miracles, coming to better know Jesus and taking away lessons to apply in our lives.

I AM Jesus runs for four weeks on Monday evenings at 7pm in the Magnificat Room, starting on the 13th of November.

The course is for anyone, all ages and backgrounds, interested in learning more about Jesus in a relaxed, thought provoking and down to earth setting.

To register for I AM Jesus, or if you have any questions, email Brendan at brendan@churchinthecity.com.au

MOTHERS GROUP

Donations for Knitting

Do you have knitting needles, wool, or crochet hooks sitting in a cupboard or drawer, no longer needed?
We are currently asking our generous parishioners who may have these items to donate them to a wonderful cause!
A group of mums will be coming together each fortnight to knit and crochet clothing and beanies for premature and stillborn babies.

Are you interested in joining a Mothers Group?

4pm - 5:15pm Every 2nd and 4th Sunday of the Month

At 4pm on the 2nd and 4th Sunday of each month, a group of mums will come together to discuss topics such as virtue, character building, prayer, mortification, examination of conscience, charity and interior life. It will be a chance to bond with other mums in the Parish community, and an opportunity for all to share their wisdom and advice on being a mum.

The group will also focus on works of charity, and will knit/crochet clothing and beanies for premature and stillborn babies. You don't need to have any experience with knitting, all training will be provided by our mums.

If you would like more information, and to learn when this starts, please email chatswoodoffice@bbcatholic.org.au
