Plenary Council Discernment Session next weekend

Fr Noel Connolly a Columbian and a member of the Plenary Council 2020 Facilitation Team wrote:

The real question at the heart of our Plenary Council planning process is not "What will we do?" but "What is the Holy Spirit leading us to do?" Unless the Plenary Council processes are Spirit-inspired, they will not be attractive, life-giving or lasting in the end. Pope Francis has reminded us that the church does not grow by proselytising or by argument but by attractiveness. [EG #14] Ultimately, it is only the beauty of God that attracts.

If you read "Listen to what the Spirit is saying", the final report on the Listening and Dialogue stage, you will notice that there are many, varied opinions expressed. We will need patient discernment to grasp the voice of the Holy Spirit among the enthusiastic, strongly held but, sometimes contradictory, voices of the People of God. We will also need humility and generous openness to all. In a debating process, it is easy for us to decide who has the sensus fidei, (sense of the faith) and who should be listened to. It is the ones we agree with!

Group discernment requires a different process; a commitment to listen attentively and to trust the intentions of others, together with a willingness to share our own experience and insights and let go of our assumptions or biases. We come to God in and with our brothers and sisters, sharing and listening, not debating and correcting.

Listen and Discern Sessions will be offered as Lent calls us to renewal it also calls us as Churches to overcome the barriers which have divided fellow Christians for so long. Please be part of our shared Ecumenical Lenten Celebrations on the Tuesday evenings of Lent.

weekday Mass is a rich way of entering into Lent: the daily readings offer food for our reflection & the Eucharist is our spiritual food for the Lenten journey.

Caritas
 AUSTRALIA

Father of four, Barry, embodies resilience and strength. Growing up in a tough environment, he had to look inside himself to make the right choices for himself and his family. Barry, and others like him, were able to take part in a cultural healing program called Red Dust Healing. This program encourages participants to examine their own personal hurt and allows them to heal from within, addressing family and personal relationships and what may be been life-long patterns of violence, abuse and neglect. Today, thanks to the Caritas support, he's an inspirational father to his four girls and a leader in his community.

Please donate to Project Compassion 2020 and help vulnerable people like Barry, so that they are empowered to assist members of their communities in Australia.

Let's Go Further, Together. You can donate through Parish boxes and envelopes, by visiting www.caritas.org.au/projectcompassion or phoning 1800 024 413.

COVID-19

The public concern about the novel coronavirus, now name COVID-19, remains - especially given its recent outbreak in many new countries. At the beginning of March, Bishop Anthony issued guidelines for the Diocese of Broken Bay pertinent to any such situations of general community health concern, namely that:

- The chalice is not to be shared at any Masses but is to be reserved to the Celebrant(s) only.
- All Ministers of Communion (Ordinary and Extraordinary) are to be diligent in the use of hand sanitizer prior to and after the distribution of Communion.
- Rather than shake hands at the sign of peace, a nod, a smile etc. will suffice.

Given the continuing level of public concern about the coronavirus, but in light of the fact that the virus is currently contained in Australia, Bishop Anthony instructs that the above principles be maintained in the Diocese of Broken Bay until the end of March 2020. The situation will be constantly monitored and his instruction reviewed should changing circumstances necessitate.

Reflection on Sunday's Gospel—Risking God's Mercy

Shortly after ordination, doing replacement work in a parish, I found myself in a rectory with a saintly old priest. He was over eighty, nearly blind, but widely sought out and respected, especially as a confessor. One night, alone with him, I asked him this question: "If you had your priesthood to live over again, would you do anything differently?" From a man so full of integrity, I had fully expected that there would be no regrets. So his answer surprised me.

Yes, he did have a regret, a major one, he said:

If I had my priesthood to do over again, I would be easier on people the next time. I wouldn't be so stingy with God's mercy, with the sacraments, with forgiveness. You see what was drilled into me was the phrase: 'The truth will set you free,' and I believed that it was my responsibility to challenge people so as to protect something inside of them. That's good. But I fear that I've been too hard on people. They have pain enough without me and the church laying further burdens on them. I should have risked God's mercy more!

We must not spend God's mercy as if it were ours to spend.

I was struck by this because, less than a year before, as I took my final exams in the seminary, one of the priests who examined me, gave me this warning: "Be careful," he said, "never let your feelings get in the way. Don't be soft, that's wrong. Remember, hard as it is, only the truth sets people free!" Sound advice, it would seem, for a young priest.

However, as the years of my ministry have moved towards middle-age, I feel more inclined to the old priest's advice: we need to risk God's mercy more. The place of justice and truth should never be ignored, but we must risk letting the infinite, unbounded, unconditional, undeserved mercy of God flow free. The mercy of God is as accessible as the nearest water tap, and so we, like Isaiah, must proclaim a mercy that has no price tag: "Come, come without money and without virtue, come everyone, drink freely of God's mercy!"

What holds us back? Why are we so hesitant in proclaiming God's inexhaustible, prodigal, indiscriminate mercy?

Partly our motives are good, noble even. Concern for truth, justice, orthodoxy, morality, proper public form, proper sacramental preparation, fear of scandal, and concern for the ecclesial community that needs to absorb and carry the effect of sin, these are not unimportant things. Love needs always to be tempered by truth, even as truth must ever be moderated by love. But sometimes our motives are less noble and the hesitancy arises out of timidity, fear, jealousy, and legalism—the self-righteousness of the Pharisees or the bitter jealousy of the older brother of the prodigal son. No cheap grace is to be dispensed on our watch!

In doing this we are misguided, less than good shepherds, out of tune with the God that Jesus proclaimed. God's mercy, as Jesus revealed it, embraces indiscriminately, the bad with the good, the undeserving with the deserving, the uninitiated with the initiated. One of the truly startling insights that Jesus gave us is that the mercy of God cannot not go out to everyone. It is always free, undeserved, unconditional, universal in embrace, reaching beyond all religion, custom, rubric, political correctness, mandatory program, ideology, and even beyond sin itself.

For our part then, especially those of us who are parents, ministers, teachers, catechists, and elders, we must risk proclaiming the prodigal character of God's mercy. We must not spend God's mercy as if it were ours to spend; dole out God's forgiveness as if it were a limited commodity; put conditions on God's love as if God were a petty tyrant or a political ideology; or cut off cut access to God as if we were the keeper of the heavenly gates. We aren't. If we tie God's mercy to our own timidity and fear, we limit it to the size of our own minds.

A bad game.

It is interesting to note in the gospels how the apostles, well-meaning of course, often tried to keep certain people away from Jesus as if they weren't worthy, as if they were an affront to his holiness or would somehow stain his purity. So they tried to shoe away children, prostitutes, tax-collectors, known sinners, and the uninitiated of all kinds. Always Jesus over-ruled their attempts with words to this effect: "let them come! I want them to come."

Things haven't changed. Always in the church, we, well-intentioned persons, for the same reasons as the apostles, keep trying to keep certain individuals and groups away from God's mercy as this is expressed in word, sacrament, and community. Jesus handled things then; I suspect that he can handle them now.

God doesn't want our protection. What God does want is for everyone, regardless of morality, orthodoxy, lack of preparation, age, or culture, to come to the unlimited waters of divine mercy.

PALM SUNDAY – AN ECUMENICAL ENTRY INTO HOLY WEEK

Once again our parish, St Alban's Anglican Church, Epping Uniting Church will gather together for A COMMON BLESSING OF PALMS for our principal Sunday morning celebration of Palm Sunday after which we will process to our individual churches for our own liturgies.

The arrangements will be that we will gather at 10:00am on Palm Sunday, 5th April, for the blessing of palms in the grounds of St Alban's Anglican Church, 3 Pembroke Street, Epping from which we will then move in procession with our blessed palms returning to our own church for the celebration of Mass. Members of the St Gerard's community within our parish are of course very welcome to come to Epping on Palm Sunday to take part in this celebration.

Palm Sunday is the threshold to Holy Week and this time of shared prayer gives us a wonderful opportunity to come together to begin that most sacred time of our common Church year.

Children's Sacramental Journey First Reconciliation 2020

We move into our concluding session this week where we examine how sometimes our poor choices of words and actions hurt others, how we are all connected and why hurting others and ourselves also hurts God. We remind the children throughout their preparation that we are created in God's Image and therefore we must always try our best to be as good as Jesus.

We will also look at what happens during the Reconciliation Liturgy in the Second Rite, explain why we celebrate this Sacrament with a reading from the Gospel of John "The Peace of Christ" and that it is a source of healing and help which we can turn to throughout our lives.

Please keep the children and their families in your prayers as they undergo their preparation for Reconciliation. May they fully understand that being able to receive this Sacrament is ultimately being a privileged recipient of God's love and mercy!

First Eucharist 2020

Enrolment for First Eucharist will open on Saturday, 21st March. In our Diocese of Broken Bay, children who have celebrated the Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, undergone preparation for Reconciliation and who are currently in Year 3 or above are invited to enrol.

Our Sacramental Programme is advertised through the parish website, bulletins, announcements at Mass, both parish school newsletters, catechists and word-of-mouth. If you do know of anyone who may wish to enrol their children, please feel free to spread the word for us.

Enrolment forms will be emailed to all who are currently enrolled in First Reconciliation and to all who have enquired online. Enrolment forms will also be available from the 21st March at the back of both Churches and on the parish website <https://www.bbcatholic.org.au/eppingcarlingford>

If you have any queries or would like more information regarding your child's sacramental journey within our parish, please feel free to drop me a line.

ST GERARD MAJELLA

The monthly Mass in honour of St Gerard will be celebrated in the St Gerard's Chapel within St Gerard's Church Monday 16th March at 9:30am.

EPPING HEALING MASS

Our Healing and Anointing Mass will take place on Wednesday, 18th March at 10:00am in the Church. Morning tea will be served at the conclusion of Mass in the meeting room. Catering: Carmel Avis and Marie Heard.

All are welcome to our monthly Healing Masses (on the 1st Thursday of the month at Carlingford and the 3rd Wednesday of the month at Epping) as a time to pray for God's healing strength either for ourselves or those we know. Each third month (Mar, Jun, Sep and Dec) we also celebrate the Sacrament of the Sick (Anointing) within these Masses.

Supporting Our Parish

Our parishes create a strong positive presence in our communities, and enjoy essential partners in our Catholic schools. Our Catholic identity finds fluent expression through them.

The Catholic Church has a strong tradition of giving that follows in the footsteps of St Paul who spoke about caring for one another; it has established and supported many worthwhile charities throughout its long history.

This culture of charity continues on, but a parish can only sustain itself and these charitable works with the help of its parishioners whose generosity makes great things possible. We ask you to consider this when thinking about your Charitable commitments to your parish. A church is not merely a building but the people who breathe life into it.

What happens to the Second Collection? Money from the second collection supports the maintenance of the parish buildings and pastoral programs. The parish must work within its own budget and is unable to draw funds for expenses from any source other than its own income. Loans for church works are permitted as long as they can be serviced. Some of the expenses covered are:

1. Parish running costs, e.g. administration, insurance, utilities, general maintenance and upkeep of the Church, presbytery and parish property.
2. Parish staff salaries including superannuation.
3. Priests' care expenses. 4. Charitable Works Fund shortfall. The collection combines income from planned giving envelope and cash on plates.
