Christ the King, coming in glory at the end of time

Can you recall the moments when Christ was your King, for you placed Christ at the centre of your life? Christ is only our King when he reigns in our hearts and the Kingdom of Heaven has changed our lives. Our prayer Thy Kingdom come is being answered. We let God be at the centre of our lives and we receive amazing gifts of grace and healing, joy and encouragement.

Next week, we move into Advent, which means "He comes" or the arrival of someone special. This is the Great Story about the coming of the Saviour, Jesus who is the Messiah, the Christ. These are ways to prepare: read, or watch, or join a group online to watch and catch up together.

ADORE: This booklet lists the Bible readings for each day. You can read a reflection on what you have read and nourish yourself with God's Word. The book fits into your pocket or purse and is available at the Church entrance or from the parish office.

Children's Sacramental Journey - First Eucharist 2020

A big CONGRATULATIONS to the following children who will celebrate their First Eucharist with us this weekend at both our churches:

Sterling Aspiras, Blair Bautista, Jaydan Chan, Chloe Chong, Thomas Heard, Eleanor Heard, Evan Mathew, Joel McGinty, Ivy Mouncey, Madeline Sleiman and Callum Sullivan.

The parish would like to thank both our parish school principals, teachers, parents and all volunteers in our various parish ministries for their assistance in making this celebration memorable for the families! A special mention and thank you to the Year 2 class parents of St Gerard's Primary School. COVID restrictions may have prevented our usual morning tea celebrations after the First Eucharist Mass, but the Year 2 class parents have worked hard to co-ordinate a special surprise for all First Communicants. What a wonderful community we have! Thank you Year 2 parents!

Please continue to keep these children and their families in your prayers as the children journey towards becoming fully initiated members of the church.

If you have any queries or would like more information regarding your child's sacramental journey within our parish, please feel free to send me an email.

Reflection on this Sunday's Gospel—Give Drink to the Thirsty

For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink.

When we think of the essentials of the Christian faith we generally associate these with belief in a certain creed, acceptance of various dogmas, adherence to a certain moral code, especially as it pertains to private morality, involvement with a church community, and with having some personal relationship to Christ in our lives.

Now, while these things are essential and may never be denigrated, Jesus would add something else. For him, a criterion, in fact the criterion, for the practice of the Christian faith is the exercise of the corporal works of mercy. Have we fed the hungry? Given drink to the thirsty? Clothed the naked?

Jesus' command to practice the corporal works of mercy is direct, uncompromising, and everywhere present in the entire New Testament. Taken as whole, every tenth line in the New Testament is a direct challenge to the Christian to reach out to the physically poor. In Luke's gospel, it is every sixth line. In the Epistle of James, it is every fifth line. Involvement with the poor is not a negotiable item. This is mandated with the same weight as is any creed, dogma, and moral or spiritual teaching.

What is required is a change of heart and ultimately a change of lifestyle, by each of us who do have clean water.

And this may never be spiritualized. The command to be involved with the physically poor means just that, the physically poor. It is rationalizing when we turn the corporal works of mercy into something less concrete, namely, when we define the physically poor in such a wide sense so as to include everyone—"To feed the hungry can also mean feeding those who are spiritually hungry." "To give drink to the thirsty can also mean giving spiritual nourishment to those who, while affluent materially, are hungry for deeper things." There is a sense in which this is true, but that is not what Jesus intended in Matthew 25 and not what the church has perennially intended in its social teachings.

There is a spiritual sense to hunger, thirst, and poverty, but that is addressed elsewhere, both in the New Testament and in church teachings. Reaching out to the deeper, non-material, hungers and thirsts of humanity is what is mandated in the spiritual works of mercy. The words of Jesus in the gospels challenging us to reach out to the physically poor are not intended spiritually. The corporal works of mercy are about reaching out to the physically poor, pure and simple.

So how do we give drink to the thirsty?

Obviously, especially given what has just been said, there is an aspect to this that is brutally concrete. Water is even more important than food. Without water we die, are unable to wash ourselves and our clothing, and are unable to enjoy any quality of life whatever. To lack clean, drinkable water is to lack the first necessity of life. Hence, Jesus' command to give drink to the thirsty is, first of all, about looking around ourselves and our world and trying to provide for every person on this earth clean, drinkable water.

This, given the present situation of the planet, is not easy to do. A long, and mostly morally sanctioned, history of privilege and inequality—wherein some of us have surplus while others lack for basic necessities—has made for a situation in which there is now a rationalized acceptance of the fact that millions of people lack the basic physical necessities for life, including clean drinkable water. Thus, to get water to the thirsty today requires more than just the positive efforts being made by those individuals and agencies which are directly trying to bring clean water into poor areas. What is required, as well, is a change of heart and ultimately a change of lifestyle, by each of us who do have clean water.

As the great social encyclicals of the church, from Leo XIII through John Paul II, re-iterate over and over, clean water will come to everyone on the planet when those of us who have surplus, of any kind, live fully moral lives, namely when we accept that it is not right to have surplus while others lack necessities:

– God intended the earth and everything in it for the sake of all human beings. ... Thus created goods should flow fairly to all. All other rights, whatever they may be, are subordinated to this principle. (Populorum Progressio 22 & Gaudium et Spes 69)

– No person or country may have surplus if others do not have the basic necessities. (Rerum Novarum 19; Quadregesimo Anno 50-51; Mater et Magistra 119-121; Populorum Progressio 230)

Giving drink to the thirsty involves looking at those principles with more moral courage than we have up to now.

GLORIA

Glory to God in the highest,
and on earth peace to people of good will.
We praise you,
we bless you,
we adore you,
we glorify you,
we give you thanks for your great glory,
Lord God, heavenly King,
O God, almighty Father.
Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son,
Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,
you take away the sins of the world,
have mercy on us;
you take away the sins of the world,
receive our prayer;
you are seated at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy on us.
For you alone are the Holy One,
you alone are the Lord,
you alone are the Most High,
Jesus Christ,
with the Holy Spirit,
in the glory of God the Father.
Amen.

THE NICENE CREED

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us and for our salvation
he came down from heaven, (all bow)
and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory
to judge the living and the dead
and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son is adored and
glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins
and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead
and the life of the world to come.
Amen.
