SCRIPTURE COMMENTARY

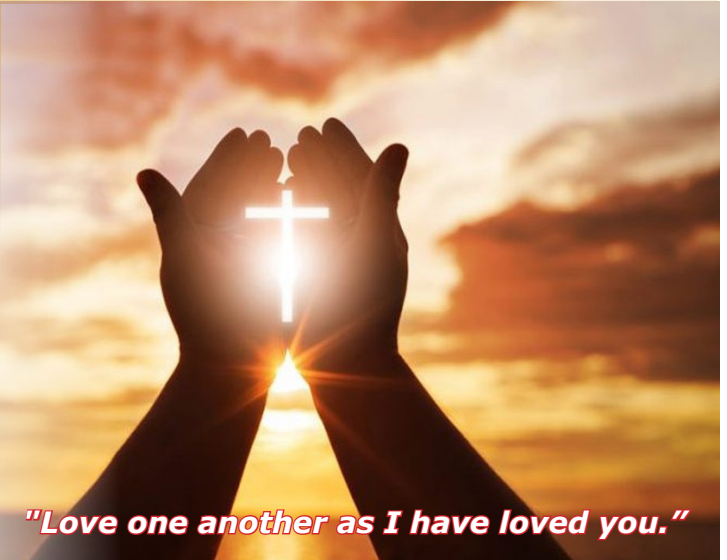

BY DIANNE BERGANT CSA

A map of the ancient world will show the ambitious scope of the daring apostolic venture of Paul and Barnabas. The success of their preaching is evident, though not without difficulty. There is a subtle reference to the suffering that they had to endure (v.22). Such hardship was considered the 'birth pangs' of the Messiah, the inevitable suffering that occurs when one passes from 'this age' to the 'age of fulfilment'. The apostles were not independent missionaries. They had been sent forth by the church in Antioch, and it was to that same church that they returned and to which they reported what had been accomplished by God through them.

"Love and comfort one another"

The responsorial psalm is a hymn of praise of the greatness of God. It contains an acclamation that is closely associated with the revelation of God and the acknowledgment of God's name revealed at the time of the re-establishment of the covenant (cf. Exod 34:6). Here the covenant has been expanded to a universal embrace. In this light, the covenanted faithful ones are called, not only to praise God for the wonders that God has accomplished in and for them, but also to announce the glory of God's rule to the entire human race, to all the children of Adam.

"Love one another as I have loved you."

In the second reading, several images are used to characterise the new reality that will be brought forth in the age of fulfilment. John speaks of a new heaven and new earth. The disappearance of the sea signifies the end of chaos' threat and the beginning of something new. The new Jerusalem will be for the people of the new age what the former Jerusalem was for the people of the past, namely, the dwelling place of God. The old order has passed away, along with death and tears. The reading ends in a summary note: All things are made new.

The departure of Judas sets into motion the machinery of Jesus' arrest, trial and execution. There is no going back now. The die is cast; the events of salvation are about to begin. The hour of eschatological fulfilment has come. While it looks like only suffering and death are on the horizon, this is in fact the moment of glorification. Lifted up in ignominy, Jesus will really be lifted up in glory, for surrender, death, resurrection and exaltation are really all one event. Jesus' willingness to suffer also glorifies God, for it reveals the extent of Jesus' love for God and God's love for humankind. Jesus addresses the remaining eleven apostles with the affectionate address of a teacher to students, 'my children'. It is followed by the commandment to love one another. This kind of love will be the universal sign of discipleship of Jesus. It will establish a new kind of order. The disciples are to love one another as Jesus has loved them. © Dianne Bergant CSA

PROFILE OF A CATECHIST

Hi my name is Elvira Bennett, I recently became a Catechist at East Gosford Public School, teaching year 3 and 4 students ages 8-10 years. I have always been interested in becoming a Catechist, when opportunity presented last year, I contacted Raelene our Parish Catechist Co-ordinator and began the training process. I found the online training to become a Catechist quite easy to access at my own convenience, taking roughly an hour for each unit.

I begin my lesson with greeting all my students and setting up our Sacred Space. The students quickly settle and we initiate with the Sign of Cross and the opening prayers of Our Lord's prayer and the Hail Mary continuing into our lesson for the day.

I would personally encourage other Parishioners to become a Catechist, it is so rewarding for us as Catechist, but also for the students experiencing the love and word of God.

Please contact Raelene our Parish Catechist Co-ordinator for further enquires 0499 995 292

VOX POPULI – THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

11 May 2022

Sometimes it is the smallest acts of compassion and friendship that can have the biggest impact.

The students, staff and families saw that last week at Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic School, Waitara.

Kevin, (on the right in the photograph) recently arrived in Australia after a courageous journey, escaping the war in Ukraine to Poland and arriving in the diocese just a week before Easter.

He did not know any English and faced many new and challenging situations.

However the staff at OLOR Waitara, and the other students in Year 2 were really keen to help Kevin settle in to his new environment.

When the school had their Mother's Day stall last week all the students were excited and keen to buy something for their mums.

Not surprisingly Kevin wasn't sure what was happening.

The Principal, Mrs Jacinta Crowe knew how to help Kevin. She asked another student, Nicholas, also in Year 2, to help because he had "superpowers".

Nicholas speaks Kevin's language and was able to explain what was happening and went with him to the stall where Nicholas bought something for his mum.

With giftbag in hand Kevin returned to class feeling empowered and his fellow students witnessed how their school's core values – respect, hospitality, integrity, compassion and service – really can make a difference.

This Sunday's Gospel (John 13:35) speaks of Jesus' new commandment: "Love one another as I have loved you" Love is a very powerful word and so often trivialised. Love is also a sacrifice, it makes faith real and unifying, and as St Teresa of Calcutta so often said;

"Love cannot remain by itself – it has no meaning. Love has to be put into action, and that action is service."

Clearly our schools are encouraging their students to put words into actions.

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

CF. PS 97:1-2

O sing a new song to the Lord, for he has worked wonders; in the sight of the nations he has shown his deliverance, alleluia.

FIRST READING

Acts 14:21-27

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

They assembled the church and gave an account of all that God had done with them.

Paul and Barnabas went back through Lystra and Iconium to Antioch. They put fresh heart into the disciples, encouraging them to persevere in the faith. 'We all have to experience many hardships' they said 'before we enter the kingdom of God.' In each of these churches they appointed elders, and with prayer and fasting they commended them to the Lord in whom they had come to believe.

They passed through Pisidia and reached Pamphylia. Then after proclaiming the word at Perga they went down to Attalia and from there sailed for Antioch, where they had originally been commended to the grace of God for the work they had now completed.

On their arrival they assembled the church and gave an account of all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith to the pagans.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

PS 144:8-13. R. CF. V.1

(R.) I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

1. The Lord is kind and full of compassion, slow to anger, abounding in love.

How good is the Lord to all, compassionate to all his creatures.

(R.) I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

2. All your creatures shall thank you, O Lord, and your friends shall repeat their blessing.

They shall speak of the glory of your reign and declare your might, O God, to make known to men your mighty deeds and the glorious splendour of your reign.

(R.) I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

3. Yours is an everlasting kingdom; your rule lasts from age to age.

(R.) I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

SECOND READING

RV 21:1-5

A reading from the book of the Apocalypse

He will wipe away all the tears from their eyes.

I, John, saw a new heaven and a new earth; the first heaven and the first earth had disappeared now, and there was no longer any sea. I saw the holy city, and the new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, as beautiful as a bride all dressed for her husband. Then I heard a loud voice call from the throne, 'You see this city? Here God lives among men. He will make his home among them; they shall be his people, and he will be their God; his name is God-with-them. He will wipe away all tears from their eyes; there will be no more death, and no more mourning or sadness. The world of the past has gone.'

Then the One sitting on the throne spoke: 'Now I am making the whole of creation new.'

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

JN 13:34

Alleluia, alleluia!

I give you a new commandment: love one another as I have loved you.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

JN 13:31-35

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

I give you a new commandment: love one another.

When Judas had gone Jesus said: 'Now has the Son of Man been glorified, and in him God has been glorified.

If God has been glorified in him, God will in turn glorify him in himself, and will glorify him very soon.

My little children, I shall not be with you much longer.

I give you a new commandment: love one another; just as I have loved you, you also must love one another.

By this love you have for one another, everyone will know that you are my disciples.'

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

CF. JN 15:1,5

I am the true vine and you are the branches, says the Lord.

Whoever remains in me, and I in him, bears fruit in plenty, alleluia.
