SCRIPTURE COMMENTARY BY DIANNE BERGANT CSA

The prophet denounces unscrupulous merchants for their false piety, their avarice, their dishonest business practices, and their exploitation of the poor and defenceless. The poor are the landless, those who do not harvest their own crop but must purchase grain and wheat for their food. The merchants describe their own dishonesty. As a result of this, the judgment of God is passed in the form of an irrevocable oath. Amos prophesied that, because the people of privilege frequently took advantage of the vulnerable poor, God swears an oath that the evil perpetrated will not be forgotten. This is truly an oracle of judgment.

The psalm is a classic example of a hymn of praise. God is depicted as enthroned high above the heavens, the privileged place of honor that by right of conquest belongs to the victorious creator of the world. The psalmist then describes the solicitude of God. The metaphors indicate that the very people society discarded were the ones that the exalted ruler of heaven stooped to lift up. The reversals are obvious. The God who reigned from the highest heaven reached into the reputedly lowest regions of human existence. The lowly and poor are seated with the high and

You cannot be slaves both of God and of money.

mighty. This condescension on God's part is reason for the praise to which the servants of God are summoned.

The major point of Paul's instruction is the all-inclusive scope of Christian prayer. Twice Paul states that prayers should be offered for all people (vv.1, 4). Special attention is given to civic leaders. Two reasons for such prayer are given: the salvation of others; it is God's will to do so. Most commentators maintain that 'testimony at the proper time' refers to the ransom that Christ paid for all. His death ushered in the time of universal salvation. It was to this universal ministry that Paul himself was called as herald and as apostle to the nations. Therefore, it is only right that the church pray for the conversion of the Gentiles.

The household manager who rewrote the debts of his employer did not fulfil his charge in a responsible manner. He may not have violated any law, but he did go against established custom. Jesus interprets several elements from this story in order to point out how children of light should act. They should possess the same kind of practical wisdom, but should use it in order to insure places in an eternal dwelling. The real point of the story is found in the last verse. Though shrewd in the ways of the world, the steward chose to serve his own financial needs rather than the economic interests of his employer. This made him an unreliable or dishonest servant. One cannot serve both the master of the household (God) and one's own personal interests (mammon). One must choose.

YOU CANNOT BE SLAVES BOTH OF GOD AND OF MONEY.

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

I AM THE SALVATION OF THE PEOPLE, SAYS THE LORD.

Should they cry to me in any distress, I will hear them, and I will be their Lord for ever.

FIRST READING

AM 8:4-7

A reading from the prophet Amos

The Lord God spoke against those who buy the poor for money.

Listen to this, you who trample on the needy and try to suppress the poor people of the country, you who say, 'When will New Moon be over so that we can sell our corn, and sabbath, so that we can market our wheat?

Then by lowering the bushel, raising the shekel, by swindling and tampering with the scales, we can buy up the poor for money, and the needy for a pair of sandals, and get a price even for the sweepings of the wheat.'

The Lord swears it by the pride of Jacob, 'Never will I forget a single thing you have done.'

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

PS 112:1-2. 4-8. R. SEE VV.1. 7

(R.) Praise the Lord who lifts up the poor.

1. Praise, O servants of the Lord, praise the name of the Lord!

May the name of the Lord be blessed both now and for evermore!

2. High above all nations is the Lord, above the heavens his glory.

Who is like the Lord, our God, who has risen on high to his throne yet stoops from the heights to look down, to look down upon heaven and earth?

(R.) Praise the Lord who lifts up the poor.

3. From the dust he lifts up the lowly, from the dungheap he raises the poor to set him in the company of princes, yes, with the princes of his people.

SECOND READING

1 TM 2:1-8

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to Timothy

Let prayers be offered to God for everyone; he wants all people to be saved.

My advice is that, first of all, there should be prayers offered for everyone – petitions, intercessions and thanksgiving – and especially for kings and others in authority, so that we may be able to live religious and reverent lives in peace and quiet. To do this is right, and will please God our saviour: he wants everyone to be saved and reach full knowledge of the truth. For there is only one God, and there is only one mediator between God and mankind, himself a man, Christ Jesus, who sacrificed himself as a ransom for them all. He is the evidence of this, sent at the appointed time, and I have been named a herald and apostle of it and – I am telling the truth and no lie – a teacher of the faith and the truth to the pagans.

In every place, then, I want the men to lift their hands up reverently in prayer, with no anger or argument.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

2 COR 8:9

Alleluia, alleluia!

Jesus Christ was rich but he became poor, to make you rich out of his poverty.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

LK 16:10-13

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke

You cannot be slaves both of God and of money.

Jesus said to his disciples: 'The man who can be trusted in little things can be trusted in great; the man who is dishonest in little things will be dishonest in great. If then you cannot be trusted with money, that tainted thing, who will trust you with genuine riches? And if you cannot be trusted with what is not yours, who will give you what is your very own?

'No servant can be the slave of two masters: he will either hate the first and love the second, or treat the first with respect and the second with scorn. You cannot be the slave both of God and of money.'

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

PS 118:4-5

You have laid down your precepts to be carefully kept; may my ways be firm in keeping your statutes.

St Vincent de Paul Society
good works

JOIN US AT ST JOSEPH'S WORKSHOP

Many of you will have heard of the high quality of furniture and other items crafted from recycled materials at St Joseph's Workshop in West Gosford.

The Workshop is a volunteer-based service that supports the work of the St Vincent de Paul Society by manufacturing new furniture that is provided to people who are experiencing hardship.

Products include tall boys, dresser drawers, kids' tables and chairs and much more. The items are fed into St Vincent de Paul Society's welfare programs or for sale in Vinnies Op Shops in Sydney and the Central Coast.

St. Joseph's Workshop

We are looking for additional volunteers to help make furniture for welfare and sale in St. Vincent De Paul shops across NSW. We work from 7.00am to 12.00pm Mon to Friday, so pick the day or days that suit you and come and join a great team of men & women learning new skills and meeting new people.

If you are on JobSeeker, we can satisfy your voluntary work requirements for Centrelink. We are an approved employer (Centrelink ID 40445).
