SCRIPTURE COMMENTARY

BY DIANNE BERGANT CSA

The words of the Lord spoken to Moses preserved in the first reading for today describe events that transpired in the lives of those being addressed ('You have seen for yourselves'). Second, if this passage was part of Israel's covenant renewal ceremony, as many commentators believe it was, it is a liturgical remembering that makes present for a new generation the past events being remembered. Although God's goodness appears to be unconditional, covenant membership is not. 'If' God's voice is heeded, and 'if' the people comply with the covenant responsibilities, they will enjoy the privilege of covenant partnership. Although the covenant includes obligations, there is still a dimension of freedom present here. The people are free to choose partnership with God or not.

The few verses in the responsorial psalm come from a hymn of praise that calls Israel to worship its God. It calls the people to serve, to come before, and to know God. In the psalm God is characterised as creator and shepherd (v.3). The first image highlights the sovereignty of God; the second portrays the tender provident care of God. The response concludes with a description of God that consists of attributes associated with the covenant: goodness, lovingkindness, faithfulness. It is only right that we praise a God who is characterised as creator and shepherd and described as forever good, kind and faithful.

Paul teaches that justification was won through the blood of Christ. Human beings can only be righteous if they are in right relationship with God and share in God's righteousness. The transformation that takes place in the human-divine relationship is called reconciliation. This reconciliation/transformation has been won for believers by the Lord Jesus Christ, and he won this when they were still sinners. His dying made them righteous, saved them from ultimate peril, reconciled them with God. Paul ends his teaching by claiming that if such wondrous things can be accomplished through Christ's death, how much more will believers be blessed through his resurrected life!

In the scene described in today's gospel reading, the sight of the crowds moves Jesus profoundly. He does not merely feel sorry for the crowds; his compassion springs from his profound love for them. Their great need and the urgency of the moment prompt his words and actions. Though there is no mention of judgment in this passage, reference to the harvest certainly suggests this theme. The apostles are sent out having been given authority to cast out demons or unclean spirits and the ability to heal diseases. The ancients believed that when the reign of God was established, the reign of evil would come to an end. Therefore, they viewed exorcisms and healings as evidence that God's reign was taking hold in the world. The apostles are told to proclaim the arrival of this reign and to demonstrate its presence through wondrous acts.

"The harvest is rich but the labourers are few."

NATIVITY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

SATURDAY, JUNE 24

Why does the Church celebrate the Nativity of John the Baptist?

Only three birthdays are celebrated on the Church's liturgical calendar, the Nativity of Our Lord (December 25), the Nativity of His Mother

(September 8), and the Nativity of His forerunner, John the Baptist, on June 24. Saint John the Baptist was set apart from the womb to prepare the way of the Lord and was a significant figure connected to the Incarnation and the Redemption. The Church honors him because of his role in preparing the way for Christ.

Pope Francis' Prayer Intention for June

For the abolition of torture

We pray that the international community may commit in a concrete way to ensuring the abolition of torture and guarantee support to victims and their families.

FR FRANCIS JORDAN SDS

Dear Mother of God will surely lead you by the hand. You surely will not want to flee the Cross.

O Lord, hear my voice, for I have called to you; be my help. Do not abandon or forsake me, O God, my Saviour!

FIRST READING

EX 19:2-6

A reading from the book of Exodus

You will be a kingdom of priests, a consecrated nation.

From Rephidim the Israelites set out again; and when they reached the wilderness of Sinai, there in the wilderness they pitched their camp; there facing the mountain Israel pitched camp.

Moses then went up to God, and the Lord called to him from the mountain, saying, 'Say this to the House of Jacob, declare this to the sons of Israel, "You yourselves have seen what I did with the Egyptians, how I carried you on eagles' wings and brought you to myself. From this you know that now, if you obey my voice and hold fast to my covenant, you of all the nations shall be my very own, for all the earth is mine. I will count you a kingdom of priests, a consecrated nation."'

(R.) We are his people: the sheep of his flock.

1. Cry with joy to the Lord, all the earth. Serve the Lord with gladness. Come before him, singing for joy.

(R.) We are his people: the sheep of his flock.

2. Know that he, the Lord, is God. He made us, we belong to him, we are his people, the sheep of his flock.

(R.) We are his people: the sheep of his flock.

3. Indeed, how good is the Lord, eternal his merciful love. He is faithful from age to age.

(R.) We are his people: the sheep of his flock.

SECOND READING

ROM 5:6-11

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

We have been reconciled to God through the death of his Son; we are saved by his life.

We were still helpless when at his appointed moment Christ died for sinful men. It is not easy to die even for a good man – though of course for someone really worthy, a man might be prepared to die – but what proves that God loves us is that Christ died for us while we were still sinners. Having died to make us righteous, is it likely that he would now fail to save us from God's anger? When we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, we were still enemies; now that we have been reconciled surely we may count on being saved by the life of his Son? Not merely because we have been reconciled but because we are filled with joyful trust in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have already gained our reconciliation.

MT 9:36 – 10:8

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

He summoned his twelve disciples, and sent them out.

When Jesus saw the crowds he felt sorry for them because they were harassed and dejected, like sheep without a shepherd. Then he said to his disciples, 'The harvest is rich but the labourers are few, so ask the Lord of the harvest to send labourers to his harvest.'

He summoned his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits with power to cast them out and to cure all kinds of diseases and sickness.

These are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon who is called Peter, and his brother Andrew; James the son of Zebedee, and his brother John; Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus; Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot, the one who was to betray him. These twelve Jesus sent out, instructing them as follows:

'Do not turn your steps to pagan territory, and do not enter any Samaritan town; go rather to the lost sheep of the House of Israel. And as you go, proclaim that the kingdom of heaven is close at hand. Cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out devils. You received without charge, give without charge.'
