NEW TESTAMENT COMMENTARY

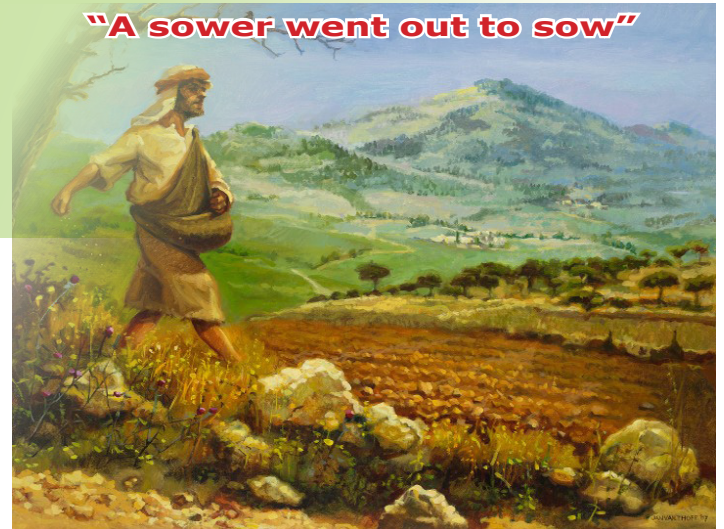

BY MARY COLOE PBVM

'Happy are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear.'

The ground around Lake Galilee slopes up from the lakeshore and forms a natural amphitheatre that amplifies sound so that Jesus' words would be heard easily by the crowd. I have experienced this beside Lake Galilee as voices easily carried up the slope.

Last week Jesus was revealed as Divine Wisdom, in today's Gospel we see Wisdom teaching her children in parables. A parable works only if individuals in the crowd can identify with the images. The Galilean audience would readily picture the scene of a farmer scattering his seed on the ground. The method used by the peasant farmers was called 'broadcasting'. Rather than making a furrow and planting seeds deliberately in the ground, then covering them with soil, the farmer would walk along with a sack of seeds, take a handful and simply cast the seeds around. In this manner some would fall where the breeze took them: among rocks, into weeds, on a path, and some would fall on good soil. The focus in the parable is not on the quality of the seed, but on the quality of where it falls. What environment receives the seed? The listeners to this parable would get this point. The challenge is – where do they/you stand in relation to receiving the seed/word of God? Are you hovering on the edge, lacking real commitment and prey to other concerns? Are you a disciple for the 'good times' only, lacking depth and when tough times come you have no firm roots to sustain you?

The parables in today's readings from Isaiah and Matthew provide a mirror held up to us, to see in them the reflection of our own response to God's word. In Jesus' day, it is likely that some found his teaching uncomfortable, and needed to leave. The word they heard made too many demands. But there is also the hope that the parable can invite change as the individual confronts his/her own behaviour, realises its inadequacy and experiences a change of heart.

Looking at all three readings for today, they speak of life and creation. Isaiah draws on the image of the earth being watered and providing fruitfulness; Paul speaks of creation groaning in giving birth and Jesus uses the image of sowing seeds as a way of speaking about his mission. The natural world and its season, its produce, its cycles of life and death spoke to people of ancient times. Since the rise of technology and science our Western society seems to have lost the sense of listening to the voice of creation, and allowing the natural world to speak. The business of our lives and our technology can mean we are out of touch with creation. If this is so, Jesus' parables will be lost on us. Here in Australia, it is winter. The trees are bare, the days are shorter, the weather colder. It is a time for fires and soup; a time for going indoors; a time for inwardness. This is a time for nurturing the soil of our inner life so that in the spring we are receptive to the seeds wanting to sprout and take root. Winter invites us into an inner darkness, like the darkness of soil where we wait, savouring a time of stillness before the earth swings again into warming sun.

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

CF. PS 16:15

As for me, in justice I shall behold your face; I shall be filled with the vision of your glory.

FIRST READING

IS 55:10-11

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

The rain makes the earth fruitful.

Thus says the Lord: 'As the rain and the snow come down from the heavens and do not return without watering the earth, making it yield and giving growth to provide seed for the sower and bread for the eating, so the word that goes from my mouth does not return to me empty, without carrying out my will and succeeding in what it was sent to do.'

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

PS 64:10-14. R. LK 8:8

(R.) The seed that falls on good ground will yield a fruitful harvest.

1. You care for the earth, give it water, you fill it with riches.

Your river in heaven brims over to provide its grain.

(R.) The seed that falls on good ground will yield a fruitful harvest.

2. And thus you provide for the earth; you drench its furrows, you level it, soften it with showers, you bless its growth.

(R.) The seed that falls on good ground will yield a fruitful harvest.

3. You crown the year with your goodness.

Abundance flows in your steps, in the pastures of the wilderness it flows.

(R.) The seed that falls on good ground will yield a fruitful harvest.

4. The hills are girded with joy, the meadows covered with flocks, the valleys are decked with wheat.

They shout for joy, yes, they sing.

(R.) The seed that falls on good ground will yield a fruitful harvest.

SECOND READING

ROM 8:18-23

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

All creation is waiting for the revelation of the children of God.

I think that what we suffer in this life can never be compared to the glory, as yet unrevealed, which is waiting for us. The whole creation is eagerly waiting for God to reveal his sons. It was not for any fault on the part of creation that it was made unable to attain its purpose, it was made so by God; but creation still retains the hope of being freed, like us, from its slavery to decadence, to enjoy the same freedom and glory as the children of God. From the beginning till now the entire creation, as we know, has been groaning in one great act of giving birth; and not only creation, but all of us who possess the first-fruits of the Spirit, we too groan inwardly as we wait for our bodies to be set free.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!

The seed is the word of God, Christ is the sower; all who come to him will live for ever.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

MT 13:1-9

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

A sower went out to sow.

Jesus left the house and sat by the lakeside, but such crowds gathered round him that he got into a boat and sat there. The people all stood on the beach, and he told them many things in parables.

He said, 'Imagine a sower going out to sow. As he sowed, some seeds fell on the edge of the path, and the birds came and ate them up. Others fell on patches of rock where they found little soil and sprang up straight away, because there was no depth of earth; but as soon as the sun came up they were scorched and, not having any roots, they withered away. Others fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them. Others fell on rich soil and produced their crop, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. Listen, anyone who has ears!'

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

CF. PS 83:4-5

The sparrow finds a home, and the swallow a nest for her young:

by your altars, O Lord of hosts, my King and my God.

Blessed are they who dwell in your house, for ever singing your praise.
