NEW TESTAMENT COMMENTARY

BY MARY COLOE PBVM

'You have treated them the same as us.'

This parable always makes me uncomfortable since I identify with the workers who came early in the morning and find myself saying, 'It's not fair,' and then 'God's not fair' – which is exactly the point of the parable. God is not fair! God doesn't measure things out according to what is deserved. God simply gives generously.

In my classes when I teach this parable I have students take the various roles and then imagine and enact what might have happened later that night in the local tavern. The feelings run high. Some want to work for this master again. Others aren't sure that he will act the same way in the future. He might have foolishly so overpaid the latecomers that he is short of money in the future. It all seems very haphazard. Others want to form a union and negotiate set wages for set times. Which just goes to show once again that God is not like us, or should I say, we are not like God. The words of Isaiah offer an appropriate response to this parable: 'For my thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are my ways your ways,' says the Lord.

The parable is unique to Matthew's Gospel and its place in the Gospel narrative is important. At the start of chapter 19, Matthew records that Jesus left Galilee and crossed into the Southern region of Judea, heading towards Jerusalem. Galilee has been a place where Jesus' teaching was generally welcomed. In Galilee he found both men and women prepared to become his disciples. Heading to Jerusalem though, is a journey into the centre of Jewish religious authority. It will be, for Jesus, the centre of conflict. There is a cost in this journey, for Jesus it will ultimately cost him his life. On this journey Jesus begins to teach in greater detail the cost of discipleship. Across chapters 18 and 19 Jesus teaches the rigorous demands of following him. The ethics of the reign of God ask more than the ethics of Moses. The model for Christian behaviour is to be based not on Moses, but on the model of God. And the God Jesus describes does not measure things as we do and does not act as we might expect.

"Why are you jealous because I am generous."

Jesus begins the parable with the words, 'This is what the reign of God is like' (Matthew avoids the name of God and uses 'heaven'). Taking Jesus' words seriously he describes a ridiculously generous God who doesn't give what is earned or deserved but uses some other criteria. God's criteria are God's own selfless love.

In placing the parable here, in the narrative context of Jesus' journey to Jerusalem and death, it may be that Matthew understands Jesus' death coming from that same source of utterly ridiculous love. The parable might then be read as a commentary on Jesus' own life, given to both the first comers and the late arrivals.

This concept of God's ridiculously gracious love humbles me. It's beyond my comprehension. Like most people I know, I have a suspicion that I've got to earn love – human or divine. That someone could simply love me! But this is what the parable asks us to consider. The reign of God is not something we earn or deserve through our own efforts. The Kin-dom is God's gift.

(Rather than use the image Kingdom, or Reign of God, I prefer to speak of the kin-dom of God. I do this to emphasise the relational aspects of the phrase and also to offer an alternative to the male image of God as King. Traditional theology speaks of God as a trinity of relationships and that through Baptism we are drawn into that communion becoming children of God.)

For a synodal Church

communion | participation | mission

At the end of this month, members of the XVI General Ordinary Assembly of the Synod of Bishops will gather in Rome for the first session of the assembly. Everyone, all baptised people, regardless of whether they will be in Rome, are asked to participate in October's assembly of the Synod of Bishops with their prayers. The Synod is first and foremost an event of prayer and listening that does not solely involve the members of the synodal assembly, but every baptised person, every particular Church.

TOGETHER 2023 PRAYER MEETINGS

A local Diocesan Together 2023 Prayer Vigil will be held on Friday 29 September, and all are invited to join the Hornsby Cathedral Parish at Queen of Peace Catholic Church, 18 Stuart Avenue, Normanhurst.

Time: 7:00pm

Prayer for the Synod

As we embrace this Synodal Process, this prayer invites the Holy Spirit to be at work in us so that we may be a community and a people of grace.

We stand before You, Holy Spirit,
as we gather together in Your name.

With You alone to guide us,
make Yourself at home in our hearts;
Teach us the way we must go
and how we are to pursue it.

We are weak and sinful;
do not let us promote disorder.
Do not let ignorance lead us down the wrong path
nor partiality influence our actions.

Let us find in You our unity
so that we may journey together to eternal life
and not stray from the way of truth and what is right.

All this we ask of You,
who are at work in every place and time,
in the communion of the Father and the Son,
forever and ever.

Amen.

This prayer can be used throughout the duration of the Synodal Process from October 2021-2023.

October is designated by the Catholic Church as the "Month of the Rosary" because in this month the Church celebrates the Marian advocacy of "Our Lady of the Rosary" on Oct. 7.

The feast of Our Lady of the Rosary, also celebrated as

Our Lady of Victory or Victories, was established by Pope St. Pius V in 1571 to celebrate the miraculous victory of the Christian forces in the Battle of Lepanto on Oct. 7 of that year. Previous to the decisive battle, St. Pius V had requested all Western Christians to pray the rosary; thus he attributed the victory to the power of the Marian prayer.

ROSARIES BEFORE WEEKEND MASSES DURING OCTOBER

At St Patrick's church we will be saying the Rosary 20 minutes before every weekend Mass. [Saturday 4:40pm, Sunday 7:10 am, 9:10 am and 5:40 pm]

We will of course continue with our Rosary at 9:00 pm

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

I am the salvation of the people, says the Lord.

Should they cry to me in any distress, I will hear them, and I will be their Lord for ever.

FIRST READING

ISAIAH 55:6-9

A reading from the prophet Isaiah
My thoughts are not your thoughts.

Seek the Lord while he is still to be found, call to him while he is still near.

Let the wicked man abandon his way, the evil man his thoughts.

Let him turn back to the Lord who will take pity on him, to our God who is rich in forgiving; for my thoughts are not your thoughts, my ways not your ways – it is the Lord who speaks.

Yes, the heavens are as high above earth as my ways are above your ways, my thoughts above your thoughts.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

PS 144:2-3. 8-9. 17-18. R. V.18

(R.) The Lord is near to all who call him.

1. I will bless you day after day and praise your name for ever.

The Lord is great, highly to be praised, his greatness cannot be measured.

(R.) The Lord is near to all who call him.

2. The Lord is kind and full of compassion, slow to anger, abounding in love.

How good is the Lord to all, compassionate to all his creatures.

(R.) The Lord is near to all who call him.

3. The Lord is just in all his ways and loving in all his deeds.

He is close to all who call him, who call on him from their hearts.

(R.) The Lord is near to all who call him.

SECOND READING

PHILIPPIANS 1:20-24. 27

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Philippians

For me to live is Christ.

Christ will be glorified in my body, whether by my life or by my death. Life to me, of course, is Christ, but then death would bring me something more; but then again, if living in this body means doing work which is having good results – I do not know what I should choose. I am caught in this dilemma: I want to be gone and be with Christ, which would be very much the better, but for me to stay alive in this body is a more urgent need for your sake.

Avoid anything in your everyday lives that would be unworthy of the gospel of Christ.

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES 16:14

GOSPEL

MATTHEW 20:1-16

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Why are you jealous because I am generous?

Jesus said to his disciples: 'The kingdom of heaven is like a landowner going out at daybreak to hire workers for his vineyard. He made an agreement with the workers for one denarius a day, and sent them to his vineyard. Going out at about the third hour he saw others standing idle in the market place and said to them, "You go to my vineyard too and I will give you a fair wage." So they went. At about the sixth hour and again at about the ninth hour, he went out and did the same. Then at about the eleventh hour he went out and found more men standing round, and he said to them, "Why have you been standing here idle all day?" "Because no one has hired us" they answered. He said to them, "You go into my vineyard too." In the evening, the owner of the vineyard said to his bailiff, "Call the workers and pay them their wages, starting with the last arrivals and ending with the first." So those who were hired at about the eleventh hour came forward and received one denarius each. When the first came, they expected to get more, but they too received one denarius each. They took it, but grumbled at the landowner. "The men who came last" they said "have done only one hour, and you have treated them the same as us, though we have done a heavy day's work in all the heat." He answered one of them and said, "My friend, I am not being unjust to you; did we not agree on one denarius? Take your earnings and go. I choose to pay the last-comer as much as I pay you. Have I no right to do what I like with my own? Why be envious because I am generous?" Thus the last will be first, and the first, last.'
