NEW TESTAMENT COMMENTARY

BY MARY COLOE PBVM

Stewards of the vineyard

The reading from Isaiah and the Gospel are clearly linked today by the image of the vineyard. In the Old Testament Israel was imaged as God's vineyard and so the central image of the parable was immediately recognisable by Jesus' listeners. Before moving further into the story, it is worth considering how precious the vineyard is to its owner. To cultivate a vineyard in fertile land takes time and effort; to cultivate a vineyard in the harsh, relatively dry and infertile soil of Israel takes enormous work and constant vigilance. The land needs to be terraced to harvest any rainfall that comes; the ground needs to be slowly cleared of rocks to find good soil. The vineyard is an image of God's long term commitment to Israel. When looking at a parable it is worth considering it at three different levels. The first level is how the parable might have been used by Jesus and heard by his original audience. Since this parable is found in Mark as well as Matthew and Luke it is likely to be a real saying of the historical Jesus. In all the Synoptics it is placed on the lips of Jesus at the end of his ministry as he faces the hostility of the religious leaders in Jerusalem. The parable speaks of his own experience of ministry, his sense of being missioned by God and yet his mission being rejected. Before he spoke this parable, you might imagine the hours Jesus spent in prayer contemplating the painful reality of his own mission and pondering why his words receive such a hostile reaction. The parable is likely to have been the fruit of his prayer, seeking to understand his own mission.

In the parable, at first servants are sent to collect the produce for the owner. The original Jewish listeners of the parable would recognise in the servants the prophets that God sent to Israel. There are many references in the Old Testament to God sending 'my servants the prophets' for example: 'From the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt to this day, I have persistently sent all my servants the prophets to them, day after day; yet they did not listen to me, or incline their ear, but stiffened their neck. They did worse than their fathers.' (Jer 7: 25-26) But these prophets were scorned. The hearers of the parable would have recognised this pattern of God sending prophets to call Israel to fidelity, but the prophets being scorned and even killed. They would know this history. Jesus expands the parable to speak of the owner sending his own son. Jesus, now in Jerusalem in the final weeks of his life, uses this story to hold up to the religious leaders a picture of his own ministry and their rejection of it. In the Sunday reading we do not hear the response, but the parable finishes with a statement that the chief priests and Pharisees recognised in the parable that Jesus was speaking about them and that they were trying to arrest him. The parable has held up a mirror in which they see and recognise themselves. This of course is the purpose of a parable.

The second level for interpreting a parable is to ask how the evangelist has used it, or why he has used it for his community. Matthew is writing at a time when Jerusalem has been destroyed by the Romans and the Gospel message is being received by the Gentiles. For Matthew's community the parable demonstrates that the vineyard has been taken from the original tenants and been given over to others. This parable not only interprets the meaning of Jesus' death at the hands of the religious leaders, but also offers an explanation to Matthew's community about the spread of the Gospel and the destruction of Jerusalem.

The third level is to ask what the parable can say to us today. In our time we are the new stewards of the vineyard. God's Kingdom has been given to us. The parable cautions us that we will be held accountable for our stewardship. Is our tenancy being productive? Are we truly living out the Gospel? Will our tenancy go the same way as Israel's when God calls us to account? Other questions we might consider are: who are the prophets in our midst calling us to greater fidelity? How are we treating these prophets? © Mary Coloe

OCTOBER, MONTH OF THE ROSARY

October is designated by the Catholic Church as the "Month of the Rosary" because in this month the Church celebrates the Marian advocacy of "Our Lady of the Rosary" on Oct. 7.

The feast of Our Lady of the Rosary, also celebrated as Our Lady of Victory or Victories, was established by Pope St. Pius V in 1571 to celebrate the miraculous victory of the Christian forces in the Battle of Lepanto on Oct. 7 of that year. Previous to the decisive battle, St. Pius V had requested all Western Christians to pray the rosary; thus he attributed the victory to the power of the Marian prayer.

ROSARIES BEFORE WEEKEND MASSES

DURING OCTOBER

At St Patrick's church we will be saying the Rosary 20 minutes before every weekend Mass. [Saturday 4:40pm, Sunday 7:10 am, 9:10 am and 5:40 pm]

We will of course continue with our Rosary at 9:00 pm.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR GENEROSITY

Upon Fr Greg's return from Long Service Leave, we advertised the beautiful liturgical items that he purchased overseas, much more reasonably than he would have in Australia. We would like to thank those parishioners who covered the complete cost of these with their generous donations. In some cases they chose which items they wanted to cover specifically and others were just happy to donate.

The Parish sincerely thanks you.

The next meeting of the CC Secular Franciscans will be right after the 9.30 am Mass on Sunday 15th October, at Our Lady of the Rosary church at The Entrance.

A warm invitation is extended to everyone to attend Mass and the meeting.

This year is very special because Saint Francis established the Secular Franciscans (previously known as the Third Order of Franciscans) 800 years ago.

FIRST READING

ISAIAH 5:1-7

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

The vineyard of the Lord God of hosts is the House of Israel.

Let me sing to my friend the song of his love for his vineyard.

My friend had a vineyard on a fertile hillside. He dug the soil, cleared it of stones, and planted choice vines in it.

In the middle he built a tower, he dug a press there too.

He expected it to yield grapes, but sour grapes were all that it gave.

And now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, I ask you to judge between my vineyard and me.

What could I have done for my vineyard that I have not done?

I expected it to yield grapes.

Why did it yield sour grapes instead?

Very well, I will tell you what I am going to do to my vineyard: I will take away its hedge for it to be grazed on, and knock down its wall for it to be trampled on.

I will lay it waste, unpruned, undug; overgrown by the briar and the thorn.

I will command the clouds to rain no rain on it.

Yes, the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the House of Israel, and the men of Judah that chosen plant.

He expected justice, but found bloodshed, integrity, but only a cry of distress.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Ps 79:9. 12-16. 19-20. R. Is 5:7

(R.) The vineyard of the Lord is the House of Israel.

1. You brought a vine out of Egypt; to plant it you drove out the nations.

It stretched out its branches to the sea, to the Great River it stretched out its shoots.

(R.) The vineyard of the Lord is the House of Israel.

2. Then why have you broken down its walls?

It is plucked by all who pass by.

It is ravaged by the boar of the forest, devoured by the beasts of the field.

(R.) The vineyard of the Lord is the House of Israel.

3. God of hosts, turn again, we implore, look down from heaven and see.

Visit this vine and protect it, the vine your right hand has planted.

(R.) The vineyard of the Lord is the House of Israel.

4. And we shall never forsake you again: give us life that we may call upon your name.

God of hosts, bring us back; let your face shine on us and we shall be saved.

(R.) The vineyard of the Lord is the House of Israel.

SECOND READING

PHILIPPIANS 4:6-9

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Philippians

Do these things and the God of peace will be with you.

There is no need to worry; but if there is anything you need, pray for it, asking God for it with prayer and thanksgiving, and that peace of God, which is so much greater than we can understand, will guard your hearts and your thoughts, in Christ Jesus. Finally, brothers, fill your minds with everything that is true, everything that is noble, everything that is good and pure, everything that we love and honour, and everything that can be thought virtuous or worthy of praise. Keep doing all the things that you learnt from me and have been taught by me and have heard or seen that I do. Then the God of peace will be with you.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

See JOHN 15:15

Alleluia, alleluia!

I call you friends, says the Lord, because I have made known to you everything I have learnt from my Father.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

MATTHEW 21:33-43

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

He leased his vineyard to other farmers.

Jesus said to the chief priests and the elders of the people, 'Listen to another parable. There was a man, a landowner, who planted a vineyard; he fenced it round, dug a winepress in it and built a tower; then he leased it to tenants and went abroad. When vintage time drew near he sent his servants to the tenants to collect his produce. But the tenants seized his servants, thrashed one, killed another and stoned a third. Next he sent some more servants, this time a larger number, and they dealt with them in the same way. Finally he sent his son to them. "They will respect my son," he said. But when the tenants saw the son, they said to each other, "This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him and take over his inheritance." So they seized him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. Now when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?' They answered, 'He will bring those wretches to a wretched end and lease the vineyard to other tenants who will deliver the produce to him when the season arrives.' Jesus said to them, 'Have you never read in the scriptures:

It was the stone rejected by the builders that became the keystone.

This was the Lord's doing and it is wonderful to see?

'I tell you, then, that the kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a people who will produce its fruit.'
