

MANLY FRESHWATER CATHOLIC PARISH

Mary Immaculate and St John the Baptist Churches

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time ~ 4th July 2021

Dear Friends,

It seems that we've been here before, in lockdown once again. As the letter to the Hebrews (3:13) reminds us "Every day, as long as this 'today' lasts, keep encouraging one another". So once again I'm offering you a few words of encouragement, to look after yourselves and each other, especially the elderly.

While Fr John and I miss celebrating Mass for you just as you miss being present at Mass it was very gratifying that 377 people tuned in to our live streamed 8:30am Mass last Sunday on Facebook. You do not require a Facebook account to view the Mass, just type in Manly Freshwater Parish Facebook in your search engine (eg Google).

Bishop Anthony has advised that the obligation to attend Sunday Mass is suspended for last Sunday and this Sunday. This will be subject to review next Friday and we will advise you by email as soon as we have an update. We are not permitted to give communion to anyone unless it is the last Sacrament for someone who is seriously ill and/or dying.

Fr John and I are celebrating Mass privately each day for all your intentions and you are always in our thoughts and prayers. Please keep warm, safe and healthy and know that the Lord Jesus is very close to all of us and we are under the protection of His Blessed Mother Mary.

"What the Parish means to me"...Parish Remembrance Book

As part of the many 100th Anniversary celebrations, we would like everyone to participate in a joint project to create a Parish Book. The theme is "What the Parish means to me".

Did you or someone in your family celebrate the Sacraments here - Baptism, Wedding, First Communion or a Funeral of a loved one? These are the memories we are asking you to share with us.

We would like a one-page contribution from everyone, including children. You can hand write or compile a word document and email it to Parish the office. You can include your name and photos or be anonymous. It is your choice. These will be professionally laid out in a coffee table type book and be on display in the church, in time for the November Anniversary. There will be copies available for purchase as well.

This is as much a fun project as a heartfelt project, so your support is greatly appreciated!

First Collection for the support of our Priests.

Second Collection for maintenance, repairs and running costs of our Parish.

Safeguarding: This week's message coincides with NAIDOC week. Ensuring a safe parish community involves its people understanding and respecting the strengths, needs and experiences of all from diverse backgrounds, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, people with disability, people from culturally diverse and linguistically diverse backgrounds and those who are homeless. Do I have the skill and knowledge to meet the needs of those in my community from diverse backgrounds and be inclusive in my practice?

Your generosity towards our Parish can go on forever when you include a bequest in your Will. Once your family is taken care of, a residual gift of your estate can be left to the Church to ensure our Parish and Faith is also looked after. For more information on how you can leave a gift of Faith in your Will, please contact Fr David on 9977 5822. Thank you for your consideration.

Home Visits – If you are still unsure about attending Masses and you would like a home visit from one of our Priests, please contact the parish office 9977 5822 to organise a time. They would be very happy to see you.

Holy Communion during Lockdown

Fr David Ranson, Vicar General

How we hunger for the Eucharist when the opportunity is not there for us to receive the Lord in this way! This is the great pain of this time, unknown to anyone without faith in the Eucharistic Lord. These times do purify us and animate our desire for the Lord even more deeply.

Such times also help to deepen our sense that Communion is a part of the entire Eucharistic action. Communion outside the context of the full celebration of Mass is something that we should not advocate because it isolates one very significant aspect of the full Eucharistic action to the detriment of all the other parts – the gathering of the community, the attention to the Word, the taking, blessing and breaking of the Bread – all of which are the essential means by which the Risen Christ becomes present to us.

For this reason, we reserve Communion during such times to those that are particularly unwell through the Sacrament of Anointing or as Viaticum for the person who is dying. So, if anyone is particularly unwell, one of the priests could certainly bring Communion to them as part of the Sacrament of Anointing. This possibility is even indicated in the current Health Orders.

Of course, more generally, we are bound to respect the intention of the current situation which is for people to stay at home. If we had a kind of service outside the church it would entail people gathering and this would be in breach of the current Health Orders. This would bring our commitment to the common good and to public health into question.

Yes, these times are trying for us. They compel us to recognise the gift we have in the Mass. We think however of those peoples in Japan, in Mexico, in the early days of Australia who endured many years without Communion and remained such faith-filled Catholics. What a joy it was for them to finally be able to celebrate Mass and receive the Eucharistic Lord again!

We certainly look forward to that moment, too, for ourselves in a few weeks' time. I do hope this finds you well and that it won't be too long before we see one another again.

Fr David Ranson, Vicar General

Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that You are in the Blessed Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I long for You in my soul. Since I cannot now receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. As though You have already come, I embrace You and unite myself entirely to You; never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

HARD COPIES OF THE BULLETIN ARE AVAILABLE FROM THE PARISH OFFICE FOR COLLECTION

Fan the Flame Towards Plenary Assembly One October 2021 'This is my blood, the blood of the covenant, which is to be poured out for many' Mark 14:12-16,22-26)
www.plenarycouncil.catholic.org.au/fantheblade/

Gospel: Mark begins a new theme in his Gospel with today's pericope: the blindness of people to the power and authority of Jesus. The people of Jesus' own hometown reject his message. They consider Jesus too much "one of them" to be taken seriously. They are too obsessed with superficialities – occupation, ancestry, origins – to realize God present in their midst and to be affected by that presence.

Reflection: The authority that Jesus' hearers sense in him is an authority and wisdom that transcends office or title or economic power; it is an authority rooted in wisdom that comes from experience and a lived commitment to do what is right and just.

Jesus' authority is not derived from his ability to manipulate the fears, suspicions, apathy or ignorance of the community is leads but from the spirit of mercy, justice and compassion he is able to call forth from them.

Like the people of Jesus' hometown, we often fail to realize the presence of God in our very midst. God dwells in our midst in the simplest acts of kindness, in the humblest efforts of compassion for others, in the singular attempts to secure the justice and peace of God in hidden and forgotten places.

In Baptism, we take on the role of prophet – "one who proclaims." To be a prophet, to "proclaim" the Word we have heard, can result in our being ostracized, ridiculed, rejected and isolated. But genuine faith never falters in the conviction that the justice of God will triumph over injustice, that his mercy will triumph over hatred, that his light will triumph over the darkness of sin and death.

YEAR OF ST JOSEPH

On December 8th 2020, Our Holy Father, Pope Francis, proclaimed a "Year of St. Joseph", to give us the opportunity to reflect on Saint Joseph as a beloved father, a tender and loving father, an obedient father, an accepting father, a father who is creatively courageous, a working father, a father in the shadows. We can ask for St. Joseph to guide our path of life and bless everyone with grace, mercy and courage

Act of Consecration to St. Joseph
 By St. Bernardine of Siena

O my beloved St. Joseph, adopt me as thy child. Take charge of my salvation; watch over me day and night; preserve me from the occasions of sin; obtain for me purity of body. Through thy intercession with Jesus, grant me a spirit of sacrifice, humility, and self-denial, burning love for Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament, and a sweet and tender love for Mary, my mother. Saint Joseph, be with me living, be with me dying, and obtain favorable judgement from Jesus, my merciful Savior.

Amen.

Solemnity of St Peter and St Paul was celebrated on Tuesday 29th June.

Saint Peter - "I do so love St Peter," says a friend of mine. "Whenever he opens his mouth, he puts his foot in it".

She is right, of course. Whatever else St Peter may be, he is not the model of a wise and noble hero. He walks on the water – but then panics and starts to sink. He makes the first profession of faith – and moments later blunders into error and is called Satan by the Lord. He refuses to be washed, and then, when the purpose is explained to him, demands to be washed all over. And, of course, he betrays his master soon after having been warned that he will and having sworn not to. If Peter is the rock on which the Church is built, what a fissured and friable rock it is! How much better, we think, to have chosen the Sons of Thunder, for their energy; or Judas Iscariot, for his financial acumen; or John, because he was loved the best.

The choosing of Peter teaches us a lesson. The Church's foundation-stone and its first leader is not all-wise, all-knowing, good, heroic, and beautiful. He is a very ordinary man who makes about as many mistakes as we would in his place and kicks himself for them just as thoroughly afterwards. If St Peter had been a hero, we could easily have despaired of ever becoming like him. If St Peter had been great, and noble, and good, we could have told ourselves that the Church is for the saints, despaired, sat down, and not bothered. But the Church is not just for saints: it is for confused, impetuous, cowardly people like us – or St Peter. The rock crumbles, the ropes are frayed, the wood is rotten – but, although that improbable building, the Church, is made of such inferior materials, it grows (on the whole) faster than it collapses, and it is grace that holds it together.

In the end, it was grace that gave the coward the courage to bear witness when it counted, grace that gave the fool the wisdom he needed to set the infant Church on her way, grace that taught the impetuous man patience and forbearance.

We none of us admire ourselves, however much we would like to; let us not try to admire St Peter either, but admire instead the grace he was given, and pray that, weak as we are, we may be given it too, and may use it.

St Paul -St Paul is not an attractive figure today. We are still knee deep in the overripe fruit of late romanticism: we admire men who feel, not think; who enchant people into following them, not argue them into submission.

There is even, nowadays, a fashion for saying that Paul invented Christianity as we know it, that he set out with the cynical aim of fashioning an enduring institution; and that the real Christianity, the Christianity of Christ, is something quite different from and far nicer than the Christianity we know.

Yes, Paul's mind did shape the early Church. Yes, without him things would have been different. And all the information that we have in the New Testament is entirely consistent with the whole thing being a Pauline conspiracy.

But so what? "Consistent with" is a treacherous phrase. The evidence of my eyes is entirely consistent with there being an invisible lion in my fireplace, because you can't see invisible lions; but I still don't believe there is one. I trust the world, I have faith in it, and invisible lions are not part of that faith. I trust God, I have faith in the Holy Spirit – I say so out loud on Sundays – and I believe that God called Saul because he needed him, and that the renamed Saul did and said what needed to be said and done.

Paul is not some cold and remote intellectual – just read the Epistles and see if that stands up. Paul is always reminding people of his weakness – look, I know what I ought to do, and I keep on doing the opposite – look, I have this thorn in my flesh and God absolutely refuses to take it away. Paul is not all mind – he does have his troubles too. But yes, Paul does have a mind, and that raises problems in an age that doesn't, that uses "clever" as a term of abuse. Remember, though, that we are commanded to love the Lord our God with all our heart, with all our soul, with all our mind, and with all our strength. Perhaps we cannot love St Paul very much nowadays; but let us at least pray for the grace to love God with our minds, as he did.

How can Jesus do all of this?

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time – YEAR B

First Reading Ezekiel 2:2-5 (JB)

A reading from the prophet Ezekiel

The people are rebellious; they shall know there will be a prophet in their midst.

The spirit came into me and made me stand up, and I heard the Lord speaking to me. He said, 'Son of man, I am sending you up to the Israelites, to the rebels who have turned against me. Till now they and their ancestors have been in revolt against me. The sons are defiant and obstinate; I am sending you to them, to say, "The Lord says this." Whether they listen or not, this set of rebels shall know there is a prophet among them.'

The word of the Lord.

All: Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm Ps 122 (JB)

R. Our eyes are fixed on the Lord, pleading for his mercy.

To you have I lifted up my eyes, you who dwell in the heavens: my eyes, like the eyes of slaves on the hand of their lords. R.

Like the eyes of a servant on the hand of his mistress, so our eyes are on the Lord our God till he shows us his mercy. R.

Have mercy on us, Lord, have mercy. We are filled with contempt. Indeed all too full is our soul with the scorn of the rich, with the proud man's disdain. R.

Second Reading Corinthians 12:7-10

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

I will glory in my infirmities so that the power of Christ may dwell in me.

In view of the extraordinary nature of these revelations, to stop me from getting too proud I was given a thorn in the flesh, an angel of Satan to beat me and stop me from getting too proud! About this thing, I have pleaded with the Lord three times for it to leave me, but he has said, 'My grace is enough for you: my power is at its best in weakness.' So I shall be very happy to make my weaknesses my special boast so that the power of Christ may stay over me, and that is why I am quite content with my weaknesses, and with insults, hardships, persecutions, and the agonies I go through for Christ's sake. For it is when I am weak that I am strong.

The word of the Lord.

All: Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation cf Luke 4:18 (JB)

Alleluia, alleluia!

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me; he sent me to bring Good News to the poor.

Alleluia!

Gospel Mark 6:1-6 (JB)

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

A prophet is despised only in his own country.

Jesus went to his home town and his disciples accompanied him. With the coming of the sabbath he began teaching in the synagogue and most of them were astonished when they heard him. They said, 'Where did the man get all this? What is this wisdom that has been granted him, and these miracles that are worked through him? This is the carpenter, surely, the son of Mary, the brother of James and Joset and Jude and Simon? His sisters, too, are they not here with us?' And they would not accept him. And Jesus said to them, 'A prophet is only despised in his own country among his own relations and in his own house'; and he could work no miracle there, though he cured a few sick people by laying his hands on them. He was amazed at their lack of faith.

The Gospel of the Lord.

All: Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.
