Reflection The Most Holy Trinity

The feast of the Most Holy Trinity calls our attention to the great mystery of God. One way of entering into this mystery is by contemplating creation, the work of God's hands. We can look up at the moon and the stars or gaze on a panorama of mountains and valleys and be filled with wonder. Or we can look at a single tiny flower or a newborn infant and have the same sense of awe.

Such feelings engulf the author of today's responsorial psalm. What is most marvellous, and indeed most humbling and frightening, for the psalmist is the exalted place God has given to humans in the order of creation. We have been given a share in God's royal authority over creation. Our God is never a hoarder of power but One who freely delegates this power to us.

It is a great honour and an awesome responsibility to have been entrusted by God with the care of the earth. 'Sheep and cattle, yes even the wild beasts, birds of the air and fish' have all been entrusted to our stewardship. We can use our royal role to be promoters of life or agents of death.

This psalm reminds us that praise of God does not mean leaving everything to all God. We cannot spend all our time on our knees exclaiming, 'O Lord, our God, how wonderful you are!' At the end of every Eucharist we are sent out to love and praise the Lord by caring for our fellow human beings and for all of creation. Refreshed by the liturgy, we are called to roll up our sleeves and take up our task.

Pope Francis' Prayer Intention June - Families

We pray for Christian families around the world; may they embody and experience unconditional love and advance in holiness in their daily lives

THE LITURGY OF THE WORD Reproduced from Liturgia

First Reading Proverbs 8:22-31

The Wisdom of God cries aloud:

The Lord created me when his purpose first unfolded, before the oldest of his works. From everlasting I was firmly set, from the beginning, before earth came into being. The deep was not, when I was born, there were no springs to gush with water. Before the mountains were settled, before the hills, I came to birth; before he made the earth, the countryside, or the first grains of the world's dust. When he fixed the heavens firm, I was there, when he drew a ring on the surface of the deep, when he thickened the clouds above, when he fixed fast the springs of the deep, when he assigned the sea its boundaries - and the waters will not invade the shore— when he laid down the foundations of the earth, I was by his side, a master craftsman, delighting him day after day, ever at play in his presence, at play everywhere in his world, delighting to be with the sons of men.

Responsorial Psalm Ps 8:4-9

R. O Lord, our God, how wonderful your name in all the earth!

Second Reading Romans 5:1-5

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, by faith we are judged righteous and at peace with God, since it is by faith and through Jesus that we have entered this state of grace in which we can boast about looking forward to God's glory. But that is not all we can boast about; we can boast about our sufferings. These sufferings bring patience, as we know, and patience brings perseverance, and perseverance brings hope, and this hope is not deceptive, because the love of God has been poured into our hearts by the Holy Spirit which has been given us.

Gospel Acclamation of Revelation 1:8

Alleluia, alleluia! Glory to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit: to God who is, who was, and who is to come. Alleluia!

Gospel John 16:12-15

Jesus said to his disciples:

'I still have many things to say to you but they would be too much for you now.

But when the Spirit of truth comes he will lead you to the complete truth, since he will not be speaking as from himself but will say only what he has learnt; and he will tell you of the things to come. He will glorify me since all he tells you will be taken from what is mine. Everything the Father has is mine; that is why I said: All he tells you will be taken from what is mine.'
