On the Solemnity of All Saints, we honour and ask the intercession of all the members of the Church Triumphant who enjoy the beatific version of God in heaven. When we speak of saints, we usually refer to those with a captital S, those already beatified and canonised, people who in their lifetime manifested signs of heroic virtues: sacrificing their lives in martyrdom or offering their lives for others and for the Gospel. We are usually tempted to think that holiness is only for those who can withdraw from ordinary affairs to spend much time in prayer, when in fact we are called to be holy by living our lives with love and by bearing witness in everything we do, wherever we find ourselves. In Beatitudes, we find a portrait of the Master which we are called to reflect in our lives. In truth, the Beatitudes are our identity card as Christians.

Vox Populi 1st November.

The Church's celebration of the Solemnities of All Saints and the Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed (more commonly known as All Souls), forms a powerful bond between the three states of the Church. Through these celebrations, the Church Militant, the Church Penitent and the Church Triumphant become united in prayer, as one Church. On the Solemnity of All Saints, the Church on earth honours all those who have attained heaven, whether they are known to us as saints or not. On the Solemnity of the Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed, the Church prays for the faithful departed, particularly those who are being purified in purgatory. Although all three states of the Church are separate, they are united under God, a message preached by Pope Leo XIV during the celebration of Mass on All Souls Day in 2025.

"Love conquers death. In love, God will gather us together with our loved ones," he said.

"Although they left us on the day when they died, we continue to carry them with us in our hearts, and their memory remains always alive within us amid our daily lives.

These days are not simply days of remembrance, they are a moment to deepen Christian faith, particularly focused on Jesus' incarnation and resurrection, which has given us the gift of eternal life, and allowed us to be united, even beyond death.

"If we journey together in charity our very lives become a prayer rising up to God, uniting us with the departed, drawing us closer to them as we await to meet them again in the joy of eternal life," Pope Leo XIV said. "It is not so much about looking back, but instead looking forward towards the goal of our journey, towards the safe harbor that God has promised us, towards the unending feast that awaits us."

Parish Prayer

Father,
pour out your Spirit upon the people of this parish, and grant us a new vision of your glory, a new experience of your power, a new faithfulness to your Word, and a new consecration to your service, that your love may grow among us, and your kingdom come ;
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

SCRIPTURE READINGS

Entrance Antiphon
Let us rejoice in the Lord, as we celebrate the feast day in honour of all the Saints, at whose festival the Angels rejoice and praise the Son of God.

First Reading
Revelation 7:2-4, 9-14
A reading from the book of the Apocalypse.
I, John, saw another angel rising where the sun rises, carrying the seal of the living God; he called in a powerful voice to the four angels whose duty was to devastate land and sea, 'Wait before you do any damage on land or at sea or to the trees, until we have put the seal on the foreheads of the servants of God.' Then I heard how many were sealed: a hundred and forty-four thousand, out of all the tribes of Israel. After that I saw a huge number, impossible to count, of people from every nation, race, tribe and language; they were standing in front of the throne and in front of the Lamb, dressed in white robes and holding palms in their hands. They shouted aloud, 'Victory to our God, who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb!' And all the angels who were standing in a circle round the throne, surrounding the elders and the four animals, prostrated themselves before the throne, and touched the ground with their foreheads, worshipping God with these words, 'Amen. Praise and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honour and power and strength to our God for ever and ever. Amen.'
One of the elders then spoke and asked me, 'Do you know who these people are, dressed in white robes, and where they have come from?' I answered him, 'You can tell me, my Lord.' Then he said, 'These are the people who have been through the great persecution, and they have washed their robes white again in the blood of the Lamb.'

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm
Ps 23:1-6
R. Lord, this is the people that longs to see your face.
The Lord's is the earth and its fullness,
the world and all its peoples.
It is he who set it on the seas;
on the waters he made it firm. R.
Who shall climb the mountain of the Lord? Who shall stand in his holy place?
The man with clean hands and pure heart, who desires not worthless things.
R.
He shall receive blessings from the Lord? and reward from the God who saves him. Such are the men who seek him, seek the face of the God of Jacob.
R.

Second Reading
1 John 3:1-3
A reading from the first letter of St John
Think of the love that the Father has lavished on us, by letting us be called God's children; and that is what we are. Because the world refused to acknowledge him, therefore it does not acknowledge us. My dear people, we are already the children of God but what we are to be in the future has not yet been revealed; all we know is, that when it is revealed we shall be like him because we shall see him as he really is. Surely everyone who entertains this hope must purify himself, must try to be as pure as Christ.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation
Matthew 11:28
Alleluia, alleluia!
Come to me all you that labour and are burdened, and I will give you rest, says the Lord.
Alleluia!

Gospel
Matthew 5:1-12
A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew Seeing the crowds, Jesus went up the hill. There he sat down and was joined by his disciples. Then he began to speak. This is what he taught them:
'How happy are the poor in spirit:
theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
Happy the gentle: they shall have the earth for their heritage. Happy those who mourn: they shall be comforted.
Happy those who hunger and thirst for what is right: they shall be satisfied.
Happy the merciful: they shall have mercy shown them. Happy the pure in heart: they shall see God. Happy the peacemakers: they shall be called sons of God.
Happy those who are persecuted in the cause of right: theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
'Happy are you when people abuse you and persecute you and speak all kinds of calumny against you on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven.'
The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Communion Antiphon
Blessed are the clean of heart, for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called children of God. Blessed are they who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.
